Youth center looking grand

by Jeff Nazzaro

When the Alliance for Wilmington Youth opens the doors of the new Wilmington Youth Center in the basement of Villanova Hall Sunday to thank and honor all of who have helped build it through donations of time, energy, brainpower, labor, and money, it will mark a very definite sense of relief for board members.

Jim Rooney, along with Joe and Linda Scifo, Joe Langone, Jack Holloway and Sid Tildsley, to name a few, has been at the fore of the effort to provide Wilmington youth with a safe place to hang come a Friday or Saturday night. The process has consumed not only the men and women involved but also the better part of the last year.

"I'll be glad when it's finished," Rooney said, meaning when the doors are opened. "I know all the members of the board of directors will be glad when it's finally complete."

Sunday, from 4-7 p.m., the usual cast of local dignitaries - selectmen, town manager, state representative - has been invited, with refreshments to be served alongside well-wishes, congratulations and thanks. Local clergy members have also been invited.

"This opening is just to let all the volunteers know that this is what the final product is and this is because of each and every one of them," Rooney said. "Without them it would never have taken place."

Rooney credited a real "community effort" with the center's completion.

"This is the best effort I've seen in a very long time." he said, "It's very gratifying to be a part of it."

It is the following Friday, however, that Rooney and the rest of the Alliance is really looking forward to. That's when the center opens for the youth.

"We will be ecstatic to walk in there some night and see a group of kids enjoying themselves and having a blast and just doing their thing."

The Alliance for Wilmington Youth has done its thing to give the kids that chance.

The spirit was high and the toilet paper was flying last Friday in the Wilmington High School gym as students held a regular season-ending pep rally. More photos in sports section (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

From Wilmington to Washington

by Jeff Nazzaro

Sean Farrell aspires to a seat in the United States Senate.

A lofty goal to be sure, but in one sense, the Wilmington High School junior has already made it. Farrell was one of just 104 students nationally and two from Massachusetts to be selected as delegates to the 1996 United States Senate Youth Program, a program dedicated to inspiring future leaders and one that will give Farrell a front row seat to, at least for now, witness the actions of the legislative body.

"It will be good experience to meet with all these politicians in Washington who make the nation's laws and run the government on a day-to-day basis," Farrell said.

Farrell and his 103 fellow youth delegates will gather for an all expense paid week in Washington, D.C., from March 2 through March 9, to tour the city, visit its institutions, and meet with, speak with and listen to the country's policy makers.

Each student will also receive a $2,000 college scholarship. Farrell's will be presented to him by Massachusetts' Senators, Edward M. Kennedy and John F. Kerry.

And though the money will surely come in handy, Farrell insists that "just being able to see the real inside track of the government" will make the whole experience memorable and worthwhile.

The program is now in its 34th year, having been enacted in 1962 by Senate Resolution 324. It unites two students from each state, the District of Columbia and the Department of Defense Dependents Schools Overseas, in the nation's capital for a week of intensive study of the government.

This year's program is co-chaired by Senators Kerry and Spencer Abraham (R-Michigan).

Students will see Congress in action and visit the White House, the Supreme Court, State Department, Library of Congress and Pentagon. They will stay at the Stouffer Mayflower Hotel in Washington and, for the duration of their stay receive escorts from officers coming from all branches of the U.S. military.

And while getting elected to the Senate is no small task, neither is being selected a Senate Youth Delegate.

To qualify, students must be involved in their student government and be selected by their chief state school officer, who for Massachusetts and Farrell is Robert V. Antonucci.

Farrell is currently the WHS class of 1997 treasurer, a position he has held since he was a freshman. He is also Wilmington's representative to the northeast division of the regional student council as well as being the team manager for the WHS cross-country and track teams and the umpiring director for Wilmington Little League. And he holds a parttime job at Showcase Cinemas in Woburn.

While all that helped Farrell be selected to compete for his spot on the delegation, getting picked was only the beginning.

From there, Farrell, along with 354 other students in this state alone, took a written test. The students with the top 10 scores in the state were invited back to the department of education for an interview and 300-word essay examination.

Of those 10, just two were selected.

This was heady stuff, heady competition.

For his essay, Farrell was asked to explain why many persons eligible to vote no longer do so and further to explain the policy consequences of their failure to vote. In a half-hour interview, he was then quizzed on his opinion of government, his overall knowledge, activities past and present, his role as a leader, his involvement in his community and, on top of all that, had his personality assessed.

You already know the result.

"I thought I had a pretty good interview," Farrell said. "I thought it was great when I got it, but I knew it was going to be tough. I was up against the top 10 in the state, competing with the best."

And now he'll be meeting with the likes of Senators Kerry and Kennedy, Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff John M. Shalikashvili and Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia, as Sean Farrell, of Wilmington, Massachusetts, continues to pursue his dream of someday helping to lead his nation.

Wilmington High junior Sean Farrell is one of just 104 students in the nation chosen for the Senate Youth Program.

Suicide in warehouse

by Jeff Nazzaro

A New Hampshire man police speculate was despondent over domestic-related problems took his own life early Saturday morning in a warehouse on Woburn Street.

Police say William W. Corbett, 47, of 4 Horne Rd., Windham, N.H., entered the warehouse of Dawson-McDonald Co. at 845 Woburn St. and hanged himself. Corbett was part owner of the business.

He was found at around 7:00 a.m. by a company maintenance worker who was reporting to work.

Police arrived on the scene at 7:17 a.m., at which time the district attorney's and medical examiner's offices were notified.

Scout Troop 136 to celebrate Silver Anniversary March 10

by Jeff Nazzaro

The site will be the American Legion Hall on Bay Street in Wilmington, the occasion 25 years of scouting.

Troop 136 of the Boy Scouts of America will entertain a Silver Anniversary celebration on Sunday, March 10 beginning at 3:00 p.m.

Festivities will include a charter presentation to the American Legion, Troop 136's sponsor of the last quarter century, a court of honor, presentation of awards of appreciation, scouting demonstrations and refreshments.

Troop 136, while celebrating its long and successful existence teaching scouting skills to young Wilmington men, will also look to keep the tradition thriving in the town. The affair is looked upon as an excellent recruiting tool.

"Hopefully a lot of young boys will come and become interested," said Troop 136 committee member Gladys Campbell. "We try to recruit a lot of new people."

Committee treasurer Frank Palazzi has been involved with the scouts for all 25 years, beginning with his enrollment with the Cub Scouts in the fall of 1970, when the troops met at the old American Legion Hall on Middlesex Avenue.

Troop 136's inception was spearheaded by the late Angus MacFeeley, a former Legion commander. His brother, Thomas MacFeeley, served as original scout master while the late David Fillio was Cub Scout master.

Palazzi said that while times have changed, the spirit of scouting has remained constant.

"A lot of boys have come through and benefitted from the program," he said. "It's a real sense of satisfaction when boys come through and you can make a difference."

Palazzi described one boy who came through as a typical adolescent outcast: overweight, underconfident, no self-esteem. But he said, "the troop had a major role in turning this kid around." By the time the boy was 18, he was one of only three Eagle Scouts in the troop's history.

"Right now we're looking for a prime candidate to be the fourth," Palazzi said.

Boys who are between the ages of 11-17, or who have completed the fifth grade or received the Arrow of Light award as a Cub Scout are eligible to start Boy Scouts.

The public is invited to the 25th Anniversary celebration. Interested persons are asked to RSVP to Campbell by calling her at 658-5918.

Tewksbury youngsters given state evaluation practice

Monday and Tuesday, February 12 and 13, students in grades four and eight took part in a system sponsored practice test in preparation for the state Massachusetts Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests, which will be given during the last week in March. Students in grade four were given the question:

A ship recently had an oil spill in the Atlantic ocean off the coast of Rhode Island.

A. Describe two important effects that a major oil spill can have on the environment.

B. Describe two important effects that a major oil spill can have on people.

C. How can oil spills be prevented in the future?

Grade eight students were asked to answer this question:

The Tewksbury State Hospital,owned by the State of Massachusetts, has a parcel of land to donate to benefit the town of Tewksbury. Four organizations have applied for the land to use it for the following purposes:

A. build a nice skating rink.

B. build a town library.

C. preserve conservation land.

D. construct a private school.

Only two can be selected. Write a letter persuading our Governor to support your two choices for the land use. Give two reasons for each of your two choices and tell why you rejected each of the others.

These questions are two examples of what is called, "Open Ended Questions." They were created by the Unified Committee on Writing and Assessments, a group of 25 Tewksbury teachers and administrators who are working to improve writing and thinking skills. Later this month, this committee will prepare and train themselves to score student answers to these questions. The rating scale will be the same one used for the Massachusetts test, but the scoring guide, or "rubric," will be created specifically for these questions.

Early in March student papers will be returned to the teachers, along with general suggestions for improving student scores on these open ended questions. This information will be used to better prepare Tewksbury students to succeed on the March state test.

For more information contact Dr. Joseph Walsh, director of curriculum, Tewksbury Public Schools, 139 Pleasant St., Tewksbury; 508-851-6044.

North Street School's students of the month

Each month at Tewksbury's North Street School, at least one child per classroom is honored as "Student of the Month." This status is earned as a result of completing a project (on a voluntary basis) that his/her teacher considers outstanding in that classroom.

Students are then honored in the following manner:

1. Names announced through the public address system; 2. A certificate presented by the principal; 3. A coupon to be exchanged at the school store for school related merchandise; 4. a school logo button which says "I'm worth it."

The winners for January:

Kindergarten: Desiree Marrufo, Kaitlyn Hogan, Melissa DiPietro, Robyn Wyatt, Alex Stanford.

Grade one: Lindsey Fairweather, Paul Hanley, Eric Shaw, Ryan Vocell, Samantha Kelley.

Grade two: Kara Dunlevy, Natallia Pepicelli, Joo-Yeon Ryu, Andrea DeMelo.

Grade three: Brooke Silva, Michael McCarthy, Jodi Cronin.

Grade four: Ashley Bibo, Sarah Sheehan, Robert DelPonte, Marie McIntosh.

Grade five: Genevieve MacDonald, Heather Watkins, Matthew Mulligan.

The staff is grateful to Elaine Zunino, a North Street parent and the P.A.C. for their help and support with this project. Congratulations to all the winners.

EASIER FILING ON BUSINESS EXPENSES

The Internal Revenue service recently eased the paperwork burden to prove business expenses. After 34 years, it is no longer necessary to save receipts for all business travel and entertainment expenses over $25; the new threshold, as of September 30 of last year, is $75. (to keep up with inflation since 1962, the new standard would have had to be $126.16).

A receipt still is required for lodging for business travel, regardless of the amount.

Company reimbursement rules are affected, too. If a company repays its workers' expenses, it must deduct taxes for the amount if the employee has not submitted the necessary receipts. While companies can continue to set their own rules, limiting how much they will pay for and the documentation they demand from workers on their expense accounts, the new rules ease the companies' job in proving that reimbursements were properly left untaxed.

State Tourney Time

by James Pote

It's that time again. It only happens three times a year. Last year, I missed part of it and I still regret it now. It's high school winter sports state tournament time - coming to a rink or court near you starting early next week. This comes at just the right time , the Bruins stink, the Celtics stink worse, the UMass hoop team is winning their games in the first half and you really can't get excited over Spring Training split squad games as of yet. So get off the couch, put the clicker down and go out and support your local high school teams - you won't be disappointed.

OK, so you're having the winter blues - too much snow, it's too cold out and you don't feel like putting on the winter jacket. Hey, join the club, go out and watch teenagers strap on the helmets and lace up the sneakers for the love of the game and not the love of the green. Go out and watch Wilmington's Doug Olender hit a jump shot or Tewksbury's Andy Beasley skate end to end - believe me, it's better than watching Shaq with his 20th slam dunk of the night or it's better than watching Steve Kasper turn the rich Boston Bruin tradition into a lame sequel of the Boston Massacre.

This Friday night, both the Wilmington boys and girls basketball teams will find out who they will open up against in the state tournament. The boys' team lost in the first round last year to Weston. They weren't supposed to be there in the first place, and they gave Weston a fantastic ballgame. This year, with their 13-7 record, they could do some damage. This team has been very streaky all season long. They started out 6-0 and then lost six of their next eight games. They finished the season winning five of their last six games. If this team is on a hot streak, they are very hard to beat.

Next on the list is the Tewksbury ice hockey team. I totally regret not having a chance to see their state title game at the Garden last year - I saw several of their other tournament games, just not the big one. And even though they lambasted every opponent, it wasn't the same feeling watching it on channel 56 that night. Don't make the same mistake I did.

But, this year's team is different. They might not have as much depth as they did last year, but this team is quicker, better passers and shooters, and most of all, their most lethal weapon, their backchecking skills, is to put it simply, awesome. Right now the team is 18-0. They have beaten Chelmsford, Billerica, Acton-Boxboro, Canton and 14 other teams. On Monday night, it will be known whether or not Tewksbury will be included with the likes of BC High, Catholic Memorial and Matignon in the division 1A, or Elite Eight tournament to begin Sunday March 3 at the Fleet Center. I know, no matter what, I will spend that entire Sunday afternoon watching the best high school hockey around and I will continue to watch the rest of the tourney. I won't miss it this year and I hope you don't either.

The other two teams, Wilmington hockey and Wilmington girls hoop will also be making their second straight state tournament appearances. The girls have a tough road ahead of them, especially since they will draw one of the top teams, but if they play the way they can, one may never know. The hockey team, on the other hand, is perhaps one of the best teams to come out of WHS in a long, long time. Steve Scanlon and Chip Bruce have really turned this program around in the past few years - they have a superior goalie and several snipers to go with him. They could also make things interesting.

Anyway, take a break from doing your taxes, put the chips away and go out and spend a few bucks on a worthy cause. The fan support has a lot to do with the success of the teams, so the athletes say. The more fans and noise, the more pumped up the kids get and the more baskets they will score and the more biscuits will be put in the basket. Hey, there is nothing like a packed house yelling, screaming and singing along with the band in favor of the red and blue or the blue and white. For the average high school student, they are the best times of your life. Hanging around with your friends, having fun and supporting your other friends. For the older fan, it's either watching your son or daughter, nephew, neice, neighbor, cousin, friend, aunt, uncle, brother, sister, aunt's sister's neighbor's kid's brother-in-law's cousin, or simply just to watch a talented athlete. Anyway you look at it, the two bucks at the gate is well worth watching these kids bust their butts in the pursuit of athletic excellence. And it also gives us a chance to witness the best kind of sports money can buy.

Tewksbury Special Town Meeting articles

by Bill Conlon

Tewksbury voters will be asked to make four decisions next week, at a Special Town Meeting on Tuesday night. The town meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the High School gym off Pleasant Street.

Article 1 -- Borrowing for modular classrooms

The school committee is seeking funds to buy four temporary classroom additions, to be placed at the North Street and Trahan elementary schools. No dollar figure was included in the article, but a sum of $650,000 was the amount discussed by selectmen this week.

The modular units are an admitted temporary solution to a long-term problem, and some town officials are openly opposed to the borrowing, most notably the Finance Committee.

Still, something must be done by September, when even more children will be ready for school.

Article 2 -- Adult Elderly Housing zone

This article would create a new zoning district, which would allow for multi-use senior living facilities. The new complexes, on 12 acres or more of land, would include nursing homes, assisted living quarters, unassisted living, and even small commercial uses such as hairdressers, restaurants or gift shops.

Article 3 -- Sell town land off Court Street

The third article on the warrant seeks voter permission to sell a 65-acre parcel off Court Street, one of the town's now-unused wellfields. The land would then be sold, to the highest bidder, as a possible location for the new Adult Elderly Housing complex (see Article 2, above). Since the land was once used to provide water, permission from the state Legislature must be gained for the sale.

Article 4 -- Borrowing for the library

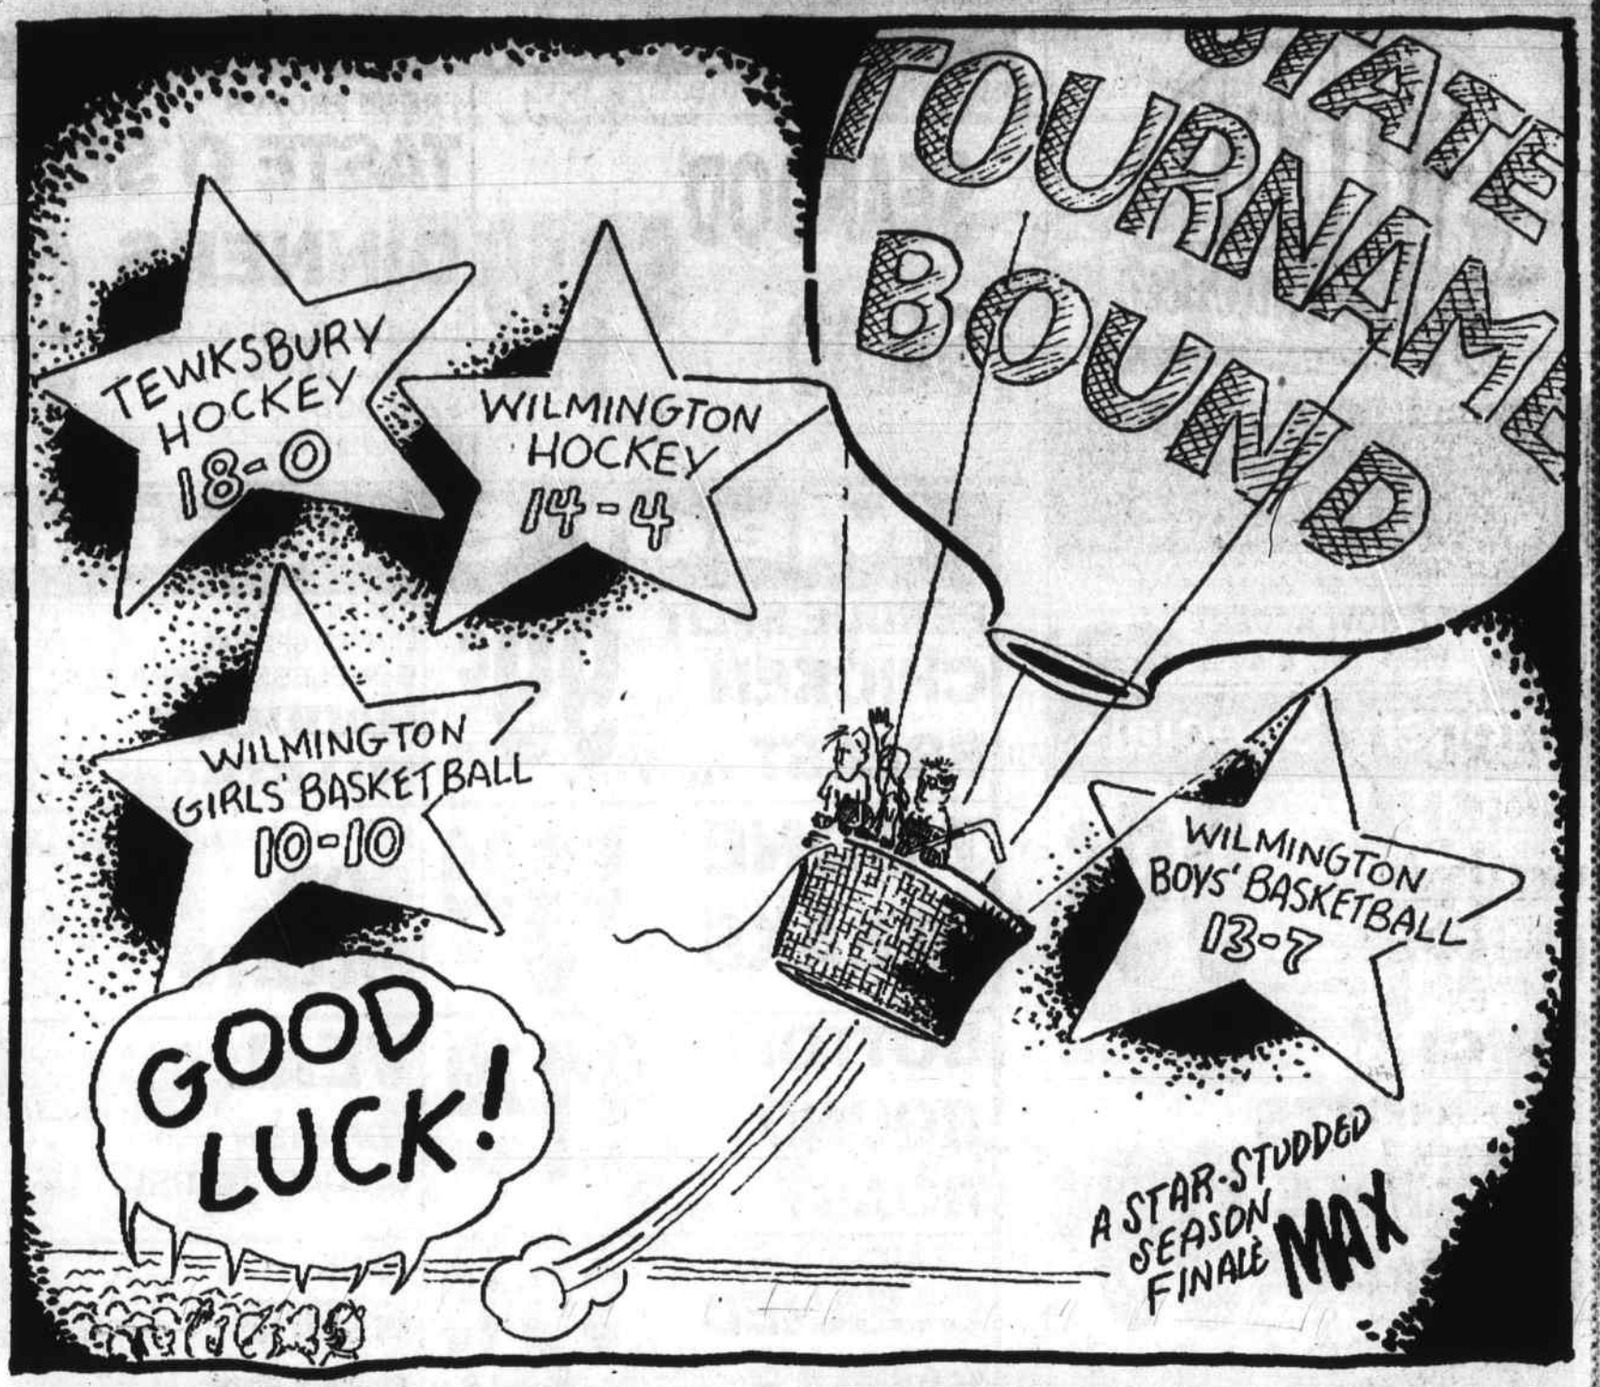

On Saturday, voters approved a debt exemption that will raise property taxes to pay off a $3 million borrowing issue to build a new public library.

However, there is no such borrowing request before the town.

Last October, voters approved a $3 million library borrowing issue, then rejected a subsequent debt exemption question by 31 votes. The borrowing was made conditional upon the outcome of the debt question, so when the debt exemption was defeated last November, so too was the borrowing.

This time, the debt exemption has been approved before the borrowing issue, which is legal though unusual. With the debt exemption approval now in hand, the $3 million borrowing request must be "re-approved" by voters before any borrowing may take place.

Last October, the library borrowing was approved on a unanimous voice vote at a Special Town Meeting.

Letters to the editor

Danger notice

Dear WHS Parents:

The Wilmington High School Parent Advisory Counsel (P.A.C. - some still call us the PTA) is desperate for your help. There has been a gross lack of interest from many WHS parents. The attendance at the P.A.C's (open to all) meetings is honestly embarrassing. This suggests a lack of support and worse even a lack of concern by parents for their WHS students.

We are down to one last chance to save this year and for you to show your support. If we all do not participate in our current raffle calendar, this year's seniors will not be awarded scholarships from the P.A.C. Compared to our last raffle calendar, this will mean a loss of grants and scholarships worth $6,000. All of our students have benefited from this.

Over 500 families have been sent raffle calendars. To those of you who have already purchased and/or sold tickets, we (and your children) appreciate your support. But at this time, we are extremely behind our expected response. We not only need parents selling these calendars, we need parents to get others to sell them. We need more from you. We need you and those who have yet to help to do this. Please call two people and have them call two people. The idea is to sell our calendars to them and to get them to sell to others. This fund raiser is really a very simple one; it doesn't require nearly the hours of so many other projects. It takes just a few minutes to fill out a raffle ticket and mail it back with a check. A few minutes...our kids are worth it.

For more raffle calendars or information call Ellen Heigham, 658-6234 or Barbara Ward, 658-0448.

Strength in numbers

Dear Larz:

I appreciated your publishing the letter to Continental Cablevision's general manager. "But," a problem, the end request for residents to complain also was left out. This request is to complain to either Charles Gilbert, Chairman of Wilmington's Cable Advisory Task Force; Diane Allan, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen; or Jeff Hull, assistant town manager.

As Mr. Hull had said, "The town has no right to direct how programs are packaged." I feel one can if enough people speak up.

If customers don't complain who else will? I don't know if others like me might have watched C-Span, the Iowa and New Hampshire primaries. It was an education itself in democratic action.

If people want programming to be the way it is, so be it, but I feel not. If I could buy C-Span alone or along with channel 2, 44 and all other PBS and town channels I would. As a senior on a fixed income I can't afford to pay Continental over $25 a month to know what goes on in government.

I tell you this, when you see it on C-Span it's not what you get on syndicated national news. You see the real thing. Get your own version, live while it happens.

"It's not over till it's over." It's not like Mr. Hull's article, as he wrote "Cable public hearing is your last chance." I applaud public hearings and your reporting of the Educational Summit.

By the way, I don't agree with Selectman James Rooney on not having public hearings on a parking lot at Big Joe's for the MBTA rail station. This is what Miceli is getting over $400,000 for.

It's more of our taxpayers money from the state to force Big Joe and others out! Nor do I agree with Selectman Rooney's comment, as it was written, "These public hearings only hold things up."

What is it, we have no rights as residents anymore to put up our views? It's becoming a sad world. It sounds like the federal government of today when they say to us, "We'll give them," like who are we, just serfs and peasants to follow their wishes as if we have no say? Patrick Henry and others fought for our right to speak. Sounds like we have selectmen who now think only they have answers.

It's like Clinton with his so-called V-chip in a TV. It's way too late for this present generation of children. I'd probably be dead before there will be any in my TV.

Who can even afford that new TV, especially with their rates for cable now? That's maybe 10 years away? If Continental Cablevision had an educational package put together today at a reduced rate with C-Span as a part of it, I would consider purchasing. But the rest of their garbage, never.

Instead of going forward today with our TV, it's going back again like when all children had to watch was like the Three Stooges. In those days it was known as the Idiot Box. Now it's worse, much that is shown, even in the minds of many is immoral.

People can't keep that out if they buy cable. Today we are forced, forced to take it packaged the way Continental Cable wants. Find a new cable operator or just not buy it, not packaged the way others or I may want.

You might support them not this and that's why you dropped it? Others may not care, but some might. People need to be reminded. In numbers there is strength. If those who care to do right write or call, at least you should have reminded them they could.

10 years ago — Tewksbury

Concerned over the amount of a television basic service rate increase, selectmen voted to exercise a contract option and review the books off the town's cable franchise holder, Lowell Cable.

Selectmen hinted they may establish a budget review panel to review fiscal 1987 departmental requests in a quest to create a budget document staying within the confines of Prop. 2 1/2. The board also tossed around the concept of presenting a town manager plan to voters at the annual town meeting in May.

Alison Berube and Beth Lee both of Tewksbury were named to the cast of "Fiddler on the Roof," to be performed in March by students of the Music Dept. of the Academy of Notre Dame.

Jacqueline Young, daughter of John and Lorraine Young of Kearsage Street, was the third place winner in the Mass. Junior Miss Program held on Cape Cod.

Jillian Schliecher, 11, a class III gymnast, was pictured taking part in the fourth annual International Junior Invitational Meet in Reno Nevada.

The Pee Wee Bs with Coach Ron Olson walked away with the Arlington Invitational Christmas Tournament by winning all four games; outscoring the opposition 17-3.

The outstanding girls basketball team coached by Barry Sheehan included stars Jerrie Bernier and Patty Murphy along with solid players Sheila Coleman, Susan Farr, Nancy Barbour, Annette Landry, Sally Sheehan and Joanne Callahan.

Two outstanding TMHS students, Robert Dunlay and Patricia Dunbar were pictured as they were honored by Rotary Club President Charles Gaffney.

Tammy Anderson, Michael Baird, Rachel Martinez, Ryan Adams, Thomas Callahan, Gregory Columbus, Christine LeFave, Jennifer Quinn, Brian Wahl and Bethany Whitehead were among those named to the honor roll for the first marking term at Tewksbury Junior High School.

Reference Librarian David Rush was pictured amid a sea of books in Wilmington Memorial Library. The building was closed for the installation of new carpet.

In an article written by Arlene Surprenant, Judy DiPalma, her husband Bob and daughters Pamela and Paula were pictured as they told their inspirational story of living with multiple sclerosis.

Susan Hayward of Draper Drive, a senior at WHS, was accepted to ULowell's College of Music.

After 13 years of service in the Wilmington Building Inspector's office, Linda Connolly resigned. She was pictured at a farewell party with fellow employees Kay Scanlon, Phyllis Vieira, Abbie Radley and Barbara Buck.

Wildcat guard Russ Lydon helped lead his team to a solid season with his steady play. He was pictured on the court with Tim Boudreau and Joe Vecchi.

Susan Duda, Jackie Poisson, CTC, and Jackie Paquette, CTC invite you to visit their big, big world. Missing from the photo are Geri Foucher and Marilyn Coyle.

When you go somewhere in New England, don't you call a friend and ask them what to do, where to stay, what to see, where to eat? Yes, they've been there. You value their opinion and and trust their judgment. For Castle Travel the world is their back yard. On staff are five of your friends who have been there. On the world map in the office hundreds of pins are stuck in where they have been... the Caribbean, Europe, the Mediterranean, the Orient, Australia... all of the destinations you have in mind!

But what if you must travel to someplace else? Should you call every travel agent in the area to find someone who has been to East Overshoe? No! Come to Castle Travel! They belong to a networking group of travel agents from around the world! If you can get there by plane, boat, or horseback, the professionals at Castle can call a professional in your destination for the best information from a "local." You'll have someone who lives there, at your finger tips!

At Castle Travel they manage your money as if it were their own. The lowest price isn't always the best buy. Sometimes just looking at the bottom line isn't the answer. Experience can save a vacation. The Certified Travel Consultants at Castle Travel can recommend itineraries which will accomplish your goal and fit your budget.

Cruise season is here! If you or your group is thinking about taking a cruise this year, the best place to go is in Tewksbury! Castle Travel at 1147 Main St offers service and experience you'll never get from those "discount" agencies and you'll get the same low prices they offer! Li'l RED Schoolhouse

EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER
1503 Andover Street, Tewksbury, MA 01876
(508) 851-3220

Learning is something children do... while they're having fun! That's the philosophy of the Li'l Red Schoolhouse and, at this school, the children have lots of fun!

At Li'l Red, each child receives close, personal attention. Teachers and staff encourage the physical, social, emotional, and intellectual development of every child through developmentally appropriate curriculum and teaching methods. Li'l Red understands the pressures, challenges, and changes that affect each child, in and away from school, which is why Li'l Red Schoolhouse's approach and philosophy work so well with children and families.

Li'l Red Schoolhouse enrolls students in nursery, full-day or extended-day preschool, full day kindergarten, and various enrichment programs from ages 2 years 9 months to 14 years.

In the summer, the Summer Explorer's Camp is available for children ages 6 to 14 years. This year's theme is "America, from all walks of life." The children will find out about what makes the United States and North America so very special by learning about our Native and Early Americans, Creepy Crawlers, Endangered Species and even the White House Ghosts! Students aged 12-14 can participate in a "Counselor in Training" program which enables them to help plan or run activities with the younger children.

The L'il Red Schoolhouse is located at 1503 Andover Street, Tewksbury. For more information, call Executive Director Alice Juchnevics-Kontos at (508) 851-3220.

The Local Scene — "shining through"

by Jeff Nazzaro

What do you get when you combine two guys, a few of their musician friends, a couple guitars, a bass, some synthesizers, amplifiers, a whole lot of recording equipment and tape, a real lot of patience and 4,000 beers over a three-year period of late nights and weekends?

If you're Johnny Buczynski and Steve Furniss - a.k.a. the Sunspots - you definitely got one heckuva 14-track, 50-minute rock and roll record.

"Shining Through!" the Sunspots debut album, is a light, punchy, jack-up-the-blender-and-kick back musical journey that takes listeners from Key West to the White Mountains of New Hampshire, with a pleasurable side excursion through cyberspace.

Buczynski, who graduated from Wilmington High School in 1979, had just left a job with Lotus Development for one with Lockheed Sanders when, at a bar near Loon Mountain, he met up with Steve Furniss. Like John and Paul, Mick and Keith, Robert and Jimmy, the rest is history.

"Steve said he played bass guitar and I had just picked up a new Fender Stratocaster," Buczynski recalled. "We went over to Steve's house and started jamming and it sounded pretty good."

Next came the obligatory rock and roll quiz show - what bands are you into? The answers, from Pink Floyd to Steely Dan, solidified the bond.

That night Buczynski, who owns real estate in Key West, wrote a song inspired by a vision of Ernest Hemingway hanging out in the south Florida resort town. It was recorded and thus began the Sunspots.

"Within weeks of meeting we were building our own recording studio, writing songs and performing the songs," Buczynski said. "Later we copyrighted the songs and mixed and mastered the album. We also designed and created the CD insert and actual CD artwork. By owning the studio it took the pressure off us to rush tracks and book recording time. We really had control of every aspect of the album."

Buczynski, who wrote many of the songs, adds his lead guitars on all the tracks and lead vocals on most. Furniss plays bass and keyboards and also programmed the drums, while adding some lead and background vocals.

And the album lives up to its title, "Shining Through!"

From the swirling synthesizers and spacey keyboards of the opening "Theme Song," to the pounding surf effects and mellowly plucked acoustic guitars of the closing "Key West," the album delivers a pleasurable sound ripe with invention, quirks and musical musings on such standard rock and roll themes as love and liberation, while delving into the infrequently tackled high-tech world.

After the Furniss-composed and performed "Theme Song," the band launches into "Cassandra," a sort of rockabilly jaunt with a red-haired beauty that could serve to sum up the band's approach and the album's sound: they're serious and the digitally mixed album sounds great, but at the soul of the project are two guys staying up late and jamming, having fun.

Next up is "God Save the Queen," which with its 70's TV intro and fills and classic imagery becomes one of the record's mainstays. Buczynski's vocals here are at their coolest, somewhere between those of Steely Danner Donald Fagen and singer Joe Jackson.

"Aw, What the Heck!" is a song best described by its title, after which comes "Rain Will Fall," featuring the beautifully strong lead vocals of Carolyn Hart accompanying Furniss' tastiest keyboard work. This song sounds eerily familiar on first listen, but that's only because it works so well.

Which, despite a delightful foray complete with (computer) keyboard and other sound effects and cutesy rhymes, is not quite the case with "Logged on... The Internet Song."

But it offers a whimsical break and sets the stage for the hauntingly lovely guitar intro cutting into the hip beat and exaggerated vocal swagger (á la Tom Waite) of Buczynski on "Frustrated Lover," by far the best song and overall vehicle for The Sunspots. As the record shines through, this track shines through the record.

The Spots grind through "Life in a High-tech World" like a coffee mill before engaging listeners in a 7:43 Pink Floyd prototype that contains Buczynski's best overall vocals and guitar playing in the band's lushest, most laid-back setting.

"Why Wasn't Someone Me?" again features the considerable vocal talents of Hart, this time softened, with a lively acoustic backdrop.

After another keyboard attack from Furniss in the form of the 1:06 "Space Anthem," it's back to Hart's smokin' vocals and "Free to Fly," with one of the record's most endearing melodies.

The disc winds up with the story of the band, called "Jam All Day ... Party All Night," which Buczynski kiddingly writes in the album's liner notes was "Recorded live at the Hollywood Bowl."

Actually, the record ends where the whole thing began, on the beaches of Key West and in the head of Buczynski, writing a song about his favorite "sunspot."

"Shining Through!" is available at Tower Records in Burlington, Boston and Cambridge and Newbury Comics in Nashua, Boston and Cambridge. Or it can be ordered by sending $9 (includes shipping) to Johnny B, PO Box 966, W. Acton, MA 01720-0013.

Buczynski's e-mail address is TheSunspts@aol.com. Or check out the band's Web site: http:///Surfside.com/Sunspots.

Jim Mahoney seeks seat on Wilmington Board of Selectmen

Mahoney makes his mark as the "back to basics" candidate; announces the ABC's of his platform: adapt, build, control.

As one of four candidates vying for two Wilmington Selectmen seats this year, James E. Mahoney is applying the same philosophy that has made him a successful contributor to the Wilmington business community: stick to the basics to get the big issues resolved.

"It's easy (in business) to get distracted by personality conflicts and other meaningless things," says Mahoney, who, since 1987, has served as president of Por-shun, Inc., the Wilmington based Food Service Distributor which specializes in dairy products. "But if you stick to the fundamentals, like providing good service and maintaining the quality people expect, then you'll succeed at whatever you do."

What he wants to do now is employ his considerable management skills to the position of selectman. Success will continue to come to Wilmington, he says, if he is elected to implement his basic "ABC's" of reform, which Mahoney says stands for the town's need to "adapt, build, and control." He elaborates: "First, the infrastructure has to adapt to the explosion of growth that has already haphazardly happened in town," he explains: Such adaptation includes long term, cost effective plans that address overcrowding and technology needs along with inadequate police and fire facilities. Then, he continues, "you must build good tax dollars for the town that put little stress on services." The foundation for that comes from attracting more businesses to the 93 corridor -"and I have real, solid knowledge of what it will take to attract a business person to this area and keep them here," Mahoney says.

Lastly, Mahoney says, "you need control. We've all seen neighboring towns go through explosive growth, only to end up not handling it well. And who pays? The townspeople." Mahoney suggests a plan for "controlled residential growth" which will correct current and future traffic congestion. He also foresees an impending need for maintaining the tax rate at a "comfortable level." This can be done, he believes, while accomplishing the adaptation of the infrastructure and building of new business. "The quality of our lives cannot be compromised because of growth," he asserts. "I've had to balance those scales many times as my own business grow. I'll do the same for Wilmington."

Prior to Por-Shun, Inc., Mahoney served as general manager of a major wholesale/retail garden center from 1981 through 1987. After graduating high school, he earned his associates degree from the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. He is active in the Wilmington Kiwanis Club,and a parishioner of St. Dorothy's Parish. Mahoney is also a member of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and was recently elected to its board of directors.

When asked his most important qualifications for public service, Mahoney lists his dedication to his town and his independent thinking despite the "powers that be" penchant for political grandstanding. "I've got a lot at stake in Wilmington," he explains, citing his current business, 11 year marriage to his high school sweet heart and two children ages five and two. "I'd hate to see that future frittered away because of the personal grudges that sometimes drive the process." Mahoney's decision to run was also prompted by the fear that an inexperienced candidate might be elected as a result of voter frustration with recent infighting among the incumbents.

By going "back to basics," Mahoney believes he can "overcome those distractions and concentrate on the issues at hand." Having succeeded with his own business, he's decided the time is right for Wilmington to benefit from his no nonsense strategic planning as well. "I don't do anything halfway," Mahoney enthuses, reflecting the zeal with which he undertakes the task at hand. "Changing our community for the better will be my top priority. I will do so without any personal agendas or other encumbrances." It's a promise voters can count on, Mahoney says, because his platform is so simple. "If you can remember my ABC's on election day, then you'll remember me - James E. Mahoney," he concludes.

Harrison, Caira WHS Students of Month

Jaclyn Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrison and Michael Caira, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Caira, have been named Students of the Month for February at Wilmington High School.

Jaclyn is currently an active member of Peer Mediation, a group that deals with conflict resolution. She is a member of Bread and Roses, Prom Committee and Activities Committee. She is also a member of the varsity volleyball and basketball teams. Jaclyn is a part time employee of Market Basket in Wilmington. She plans to major in Early Childhood Education.

Michael plays for the varsity football and basketball teams. He is the student coordinator of the DARE Role Model Program and is an active member of Peer Leadership, SADD, Bread and Roses and the Senior Activities Committee.

He enjoys art and draws for the school newspaper. Michael also volunteers his time as a Little League baseball coach. He plans to attend either Boston College, Assumption College or Sacred Heart University where he will major in Elementary Education.

Shawsheen Tech Seniors of Month

Robert Higgins, son of Stephen and Nancy Higgins of Tewksbury and Amy Silveira, daughter of Russell and Priscilla Silveira of Billerica, seniors at Shawsheen Tech have been named "Teenagers of the Month" for February, through a program sponsored by the Billerica Lodge of Elks. Both are honor roll students, members of the school's honor society and recipients of many citizenship awards, given to students deemed "pleasant to teach."

Robert Higgins

Robert is a graphic arts student who will use his skills to help pay for college, with a goal of becoming a science teacher. Science is his favorite academic subject, "I like it because it comes easily to me," he says.

Active in sports at Shawsheen, Robert is captain of the wrestling team, played football all four years of high school and is a three year veteran of the track team. He is a member of VICA and a former peer leader.

In his spare time, he works "to support a car," and enjoys playing football and basketball with his friends.

Amy Silveira

Amy specializes in health technology and will continue her education in this field after graduation, with plans to become a nurse. She is a three year member of the school chapter of VICA and will compete at the District Finals March 8 in the Medical Assisting category. She has earned six citizenship awards over her four years at Shawsheen.

Amy is captain of the Shawsheen swim team and an accomplished diver. She has worked as a lifeguard at Silver Lake and for Shawsheen Tech and has been a diving coach and swimming instructor. In her leisure time, she enjoys skiing, sailing and roller blading.

Dan Trainor, Shawsheen Guidance Counselor who coordinates the awards program, said nominations are made by teachers on the basis of scholastic achievement, vocational ability, character, leadership and community activities. The Elks Lodge selects the senior of the year, who receives a scholarship from the fraternal organization. Mike Oulette, youth director at the Lodge, operates the program.

Mr. Wizard's Science to challenge Trahan

On February 27, the mysteries of science will be explored at Trahan School when each Educational Services, in conjunction with Mr. Wizard Studios presents Mr. Wizard's Science Challenges.

New guidelines set by the American Academy of the Advancement of Science ask teachers to use hands on projects in an effort to improve the science programs in our nation's schools.In keeping with these guidelines,Mr. Wizard Science Assembly Programs demonstrate the science of every day living using interactive teaching methods.

Don Herbert, better known as "Mr. Wizard" from NBC TV's Watch Mr. Wizard of Nickelodeon's Mr. Wizard's World, has produced a program to bring this hands on style of science to Tewksbury at 1:15 P.M. Although Don Herbert himself will be busy exploring new ways to explain science using everyday items, Andy Urasek, his official assistant, will present this fast paced show guaranteed to educate and entertain.

To engage children in active learning, it is necessary to first arouse their curiosity.One of Mr. Wizard's proven techniques o arouse curiosity in children is to present them with a challenge. With the help of students selected from the audience, Don Herbert's official assistant will work through a series of investigations and eventually discover answers to each of the show's challenges. This show combines Mr. Wizard's informal style with stimulating science challenges designed to inspire creative thinking and enthusiasm for learning in young minds.

Three brothers open "Brothers"

by Jeff Nazzaro

"I want people to come once and try the food. I guarantee the food is going to be very good," Leo Nikolouzos says confidently during a slight lull in afternoon business last Friday at Brothers Roast Beef & Pizza on Main Street in Wilmington.

Leo and his younger brothers, George and Chris, are the brothers in question and together they represent the new kids in the pizza and sub shop town that is Wilmington.

So why did three men of Greek heritage from Peobody choose to set up shop here?

"It's a nice area," George says. "It's a very quiet town with good people."

And why will these people choose Brothers?

The difference is the food, the Nikolouzos' say, and the proof is in the ... souvlaki? Sure, or any of a number of other menu items, from salads to pastas, subs, pizza and buffalo wings, all prepared on the premises with only fresh ingredients. And look for more authentic Greek cuisine in the future.

"Everything is homemade," Lou says, "except the french fries. We make our own sauce, everything is cooked to order, fresh and homemade with top quality meats and ingredients.

"The main thing that we want is to do quality," he concludes.

The quest for quality does not end with the food, either. The brothers also pride themselves on running a clean, friendly establishment and are looking to get involved in the community. In fact, they are ready and willing to sponsor an adult softball team, so any diamond dwellers in need of support know where to go.

Right now though, the Nikolouzos' are still learning the streets, knowledge that will come in handy as they expand their current delivery service inward from the town's industrial zones.

While the Nikolouzos' brought their great food and a strong work ethic to town, they left all their relatives (with the exception of their mother, who helps with the cooking) behind. They are not related to anyone in town and the "brothers" label on the sign out front refers just to the three of them. While there are many Greek brothers' pizza joints around, theirs is their own, with its own identity - a fact they are sure their menu and service will bear out.

And though they occupy the space once known as Andrea's Pizza, they bought the business from the previous owner outright and, like their chicken fingers, onion rings and veal cutlets, the place is homemade.

"We didn't just change the name," Leo says, "we changed the menu, we changed the product."

And, the brothers add, "We're here to stay."

WHS junior college night

The Wilmington High School Guidance Department will sponsor an information night for college bound juniors and their parents on Monday, March 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

This meeting has been scheduled to provide college bound juniors and their parents with specific directions and information to assist them in the college application process.

Following the presentation, students and parents will meet with assigned counselors for specific directions related to local procedures in the processing of college applications.

A variety of materials will be disseminated including a calendar of important events for next year and a booklet entitled, "College Admissions: A Guide."

Two win Globe Art Awards

The Wilmington High School Art Department has announced this year's award winners in the 46th Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards. Once again this annual state wide competition was intense with over 2400 entries submitted from grades seven through 12. This year students received one gold key and two silver keys.

Laura Winn was awarded a gold key, the highest recognition, for her craypas rendition of leaves falling from the sky. The work was 18" x 24" done from real leaves in the craypas medium. This work will join the other gold key winners sent to New York for further judging in the national competition.

A ceramic figure of a woman emerging from a tree with her arms outstretched holding a nest was the entry of Jenn Carr. This unusual figure, combining clay and other materials was also on display and awarded a silver key. The other recipient of a silver key was Elizabeth Berlik. She fashioned her self portrait from paper she made herself, and then worked into a Cubist image. Both of these pieces were outstanding and sophisticated works of art and recognized so by the judges.

The exhibit is now on display at the Public Transportation Building in Park Square through March 1.

Wilmington library notes

New book display area

New books arrive at the library almost daily. To make it easier for patrons to browse at what's new in the library's adult collection, new fiction and new nonfiction are temporarily shelved near the main circulation desk. Last week some furniture rearranging was done to create a New Book Display Area to provide patrons a better view of attractive new library books, new videos, and books on tape. In case you are wondering what happened to the automotive manuals, they have been moved to the reference stack area. The reference librarian can help you locate them. The popular fiction paperback collection has been moved close to the fiction stack area.

Library Leprechauns

Wednesday March 13 at 3:30 p.m., the Children's Department will host a story telling session featuring Irish folk tales. Children's Librarian Eileen Broderick, will share a few Irish stories with children ages five to eight. Registration is not required but the session will begin promptly at 3:30 and run approximately 40 minutes. For more information call the Children's Department at 658-2967.

Dates to remember

March 2, Junior Book Discussion at 9:15 a.m.; March 7, Bookends will discuss Having Our Say by Sarah Louise Delany at 7 p.m.; March 13, Library Leprechauns at 3:30 p.m.

Friends & Companions Veterinary Hosp.

by Bill Conlon

When a business moves into an existing building, some renovation work must be expected.

But you wouldn't expect a candy-maker's shop to convert smoothly into an animal hospital.

Friends & Companions Animal Hospital and pet shop is setting up in the former Hertel's Candy on Main Street in Tewksbury, and the conversion is going very smoothly.

Clement P. DeCristoforo, DVM, said he was pleasantly surprised at how many of Hertel's furnishings are being adapted for new use in an animal hospital.

For example, a ventilated workshop with a tiled floor at the rear of Hertel's is being converted into a short-term boarding area, vented to the outside, while the kitchen in Hertel's will become a new surgical theater. Stainless steel countertops that were sanitized to make candy will now be sanitized for veterinary medical use, and the kitchen even has a grease trap with a strainer that will now filter out animal hairs.

In all, a pleasant surprise for the Medford veterinarian.

But Friends & Companions isn't just a veterinary clinic.

Doreen Rosselli, who formerly ran Pet Palace in Claddagh Place, is setting up her pet supply business inside Friends & Companions. DeCristoforo said he bought out Pet Palace, and that Rosselli will be using some 40 percent of the floor space for pets and pet supplies.

DeCristoforo said tropical fish will be the only "livestock" sold in the pet shop portion of Friends & Companions, citing ethical issues in selling animals from a veterinary practice. Still, the pet shop portion of Friends & Companions will help lower the fees for medical services.

DeCristoforo said he plans someday to put in three dog runs behind the animal hospital, to exercise and rehabilitate his clients. He said he does not want a full-time boarding service, but short-term boarding is necessary after some surgery.

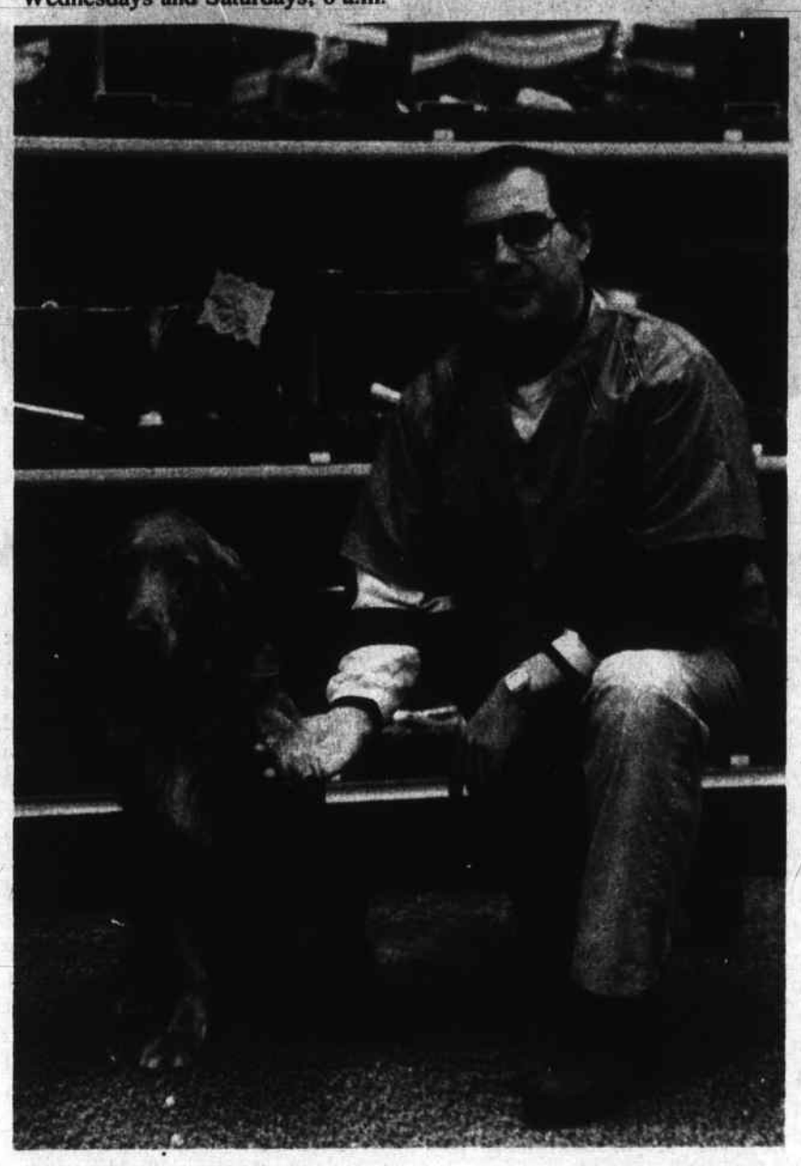

Friends & Companions will also include grooming and training, by board-certified Gail Grungo, with additional dog training offered by Frank Femino, an active duty K-9 officer with the Medford police force. DeCristoforo said he's been the veterinian for Medford's police dogs for several years.

Grungo's golden retriever, Bugle Boy, is a regular guest at Friends & Companions, and is happy to greet people at the door.

Friends & Companions will first and foremost be an animal hospital, with an array of medical services. An X-ray developer is being put in place this week, and a Cavitron -- or dental cleaner -- will arrive in the next few days. DeCristorofo said he plans to have the veterinary hospital fully operational around the end of the month and the pet shop portion of the business fully running this week.

Juggling duties between Medford and Tewksbury means busy days for DeCristoforo, who lives nearby in Andover. The new Tewksbury animal hospital is open Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. but emergencies will be handled at any time by calling 851-5558. Friends & Companions will also offer a walk-in clinic on Sundays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The pet shop portion of Friends & Companions is open Monday through Saturday, 8 to 6.

Dr. Clement P. DeCristoforo, D.V.M., is opening an animal hospital in the former Hertel's Candy shop in Tewksbury. Shown here with Bugle Boy, who belongs to groomer-trainer Gail Grungo, Cristoforo will also sell pet supplies and tropical fish at the Friends & Companions Veterinary Hospital at 1415 Main Street in Tewksbury. The pet supply portion of the new enterprise is now open, while full medical services will be in place within the next few weeks. (Photo by Bill Conlon)

In Loving Memory

1992 - February 23 - 1996

You toiled so hard for those you loved,
You said goodbye to none.
Your spirit flew before we knew
Your work on earth was done.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes on we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Your life was love and labor,
Your love for your family true.
You did your best for all of us,
We will always remember you.

Sadly Missed and Loved,
Mother, Wife Cathy, Children,
Grandchildren, Family and Friends

Providing Homes For People

WHY WAIT UNTIL SPRING?

Here are a few good reasons to list your home now instead of waiting until Spring:

- You may receive more money for your home now because you have less competition.
- Winter prospects are more serious buyers.
- A high percentage of existing listings are sold during this time of year.
- When you sell during the winter, you have an opportunity to buy during the spring when many homes are on the market.
- January & February are typically the largest transfer months and you must be on the market to capture these buyers.

Foxwoods trip on Feb. 29

Those seniors attending the Senior Center Valentine's Dance Friday evening, Feb. 23, are reminded that the buffet will begin at 6:30.

On Monday, Feb. 26 from 10 to 11 a.m., Sen. John O'Brien will conduct a seminar on Health Care Insurance at the Senior Center. The public is welcome to attend.

The Diabetes Support group will not meet at the Senior Center on Tues., Feb. 27 due to the town's Special Town Meeting. The next meeting will be held March 12 at 7 p.m.

The crafts class has scheduled a fair work project day for Wednesday, Feb. 28. They'll be making flower pots and bunnies. If interested in attending, please speak to Linda Brabant or Carol Hazel. The class will be making an item for themselves and for the Fall Fair. All are welcome.

Those seniors traveling to Foxwood Casino Thursday, Feb. 29, are reminded that the motorcoach will leave from the Senior Center at 7 a.m.

Space is still available for Dr. Smith's Podiatry Clinic which will be held Tuesday morning, March 5. A $10 co-payment is due upon signing up. At the time of signup appointment times will be assigned.

At present the Regal Theatre trip is full. However, names are being taken for the waiting list. The other day trip posted is a St. Patrick's Day Revue on March 13 at the Four Courts Irish Cabaret in Dedham with lunch and show at $30 per person. Unless more interest is shown in this St. Pat's trip by the end of this coming week, the trip may have to be canceled

On Thursday, March 7, there will be a "Senior Life Expo" at the Methuen Mall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. This Expo will focus on the health and lifestyles of senior citizens and will offer free health screenings, medication information, entertainment and more. If enough interest is shown, the Council will sponsor transportation to the event. One may sign up for this trip by making a $1 payment. More information is available at the Senior Center.

Tickets for the Senior Center St. Patrick's Dance which will be held Friday, March 22, will be available starting Monday, Feb. 26. The evening will include a corned beef dinner and music by the Entertainer's Band.

Seniors are reminded that Dr. Roberts conducts a relaxation and toning class from 9:30 to 10:15, each Tuesday morning at the Senior Center. Participants have nothing but favorable comments about this class. You may want to drop down and give it a try. All are welcome.

Seniors are also reminded that the tax assistants are busy helping people with tax returns. To arrange an appointment call the Senior center at 640-4480.

The VNA Health Clinic hours at the Senior Center next Wednesday, Feb. 28, 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Tewksbury GOP

The Tewksbury Republican Town Committee will meet Monday, Feb. 26 at 7 p.m. at the public meeting room of the Patten Public Library. Future meeting dates at same location and time:

February 26, march 18, April 22, May 20, June 17.

For more information telephone Chairman Doug Sears at 657-6178 or Vice Chairman Gail Tressler at 851-3355.

Stone's in the Garden

The sustainable garden by design

by Jackie Leszczak-Stone
Low Maintenance & Ecological Sustainable Landscaping

Recent, trendy gardening fads have brought us topiary animals, English cottage gardens and ponds filled with Japanese Koi (really big gold fish). But as garden designers become much more sophisticated they are getting back to the basics of good landscape design. The current trend is toward ecological, low maintenance gardens to which the term "Sustainable Landscaping" is often applied.

Sustainable landscaping is based on a simple premise that calls for "the right plant in the right place." Some purists insist on planting only native plants in ecological landscapes, but most will agree that hybrid varieties and non-invasive imported plants serve us just as well.

So what makes a plant "the right plant" for a sustainable landscape? In general it is a plant (tree, shrub, etc.) that will thrive in a particular location. It is a plant that evolved in and is adapted to an environment similar to the area in which it will be planted. Therefore it will not require unusual care, watering or fertilizer. It is resistant to most common diseases and pests and therefore does not require treatment with insecticides or fungicides. A sustainable plant is also resistant to immigrant invaders that have arrived on our shores (gypsy moths, Japanese beetles etc.). Lastly it must be compatible with our environment without becoming an invader itself (like the invasive purple loosestrife that has overtaken the native plants in our wetlands).

Are there any landscape plants that meet all of these requirements? Yes! And they can be easily contrasted with plants that fall short of the ideal. For example, the Norway Maple (Acer platanoides) has been used in parks and other large landscapes for at least 100 years. It is pest resistant and requires minimal care here in New England. (Hey, it comes from Norway. It's hardy and it is sustainable). But it is so hardy that it has become invasive to the point of competing with our beautiful Sugar Maples (Acer saccharrm). So in an ecological or sustainable landscape Sugar Maples are preferable although they do not tolerate salt.

An example of selecting for insect resistance can be shown in birch trees. Everyone loves the fine white bark of our native white birch (Betula papyrifera). Every spring, however, it is plagued by leaf miner and bronze birch borer. These require regular insecticide treatments to maintain the optimal health of the tree. Another native birch, River Birch vr. "Heritage" is resistant to both pests and offers similar off white, peeling bark. It is the preferred variety for a low maintenance, sustainable landscape.

Our Eastern Hemlock is under attack by a scale type insect called the woolly adelgid (for which there is no reliable treatment). The Western Hemlock is now recommended as an alternative fast growing evergreen.

Many other sustainable options can be found for both trees and shrubs. Small low maintenance trees for the home landscape might include the Paperbark Maple (Acer griseum) with its interesting peeling bark or the Cornelian Cherry (Cornus mas) which offers shiny red bark, small spring flowers and red berries in fall. Bradford Pear, with its waxy leaves, provides white spring blooms in the driest street side plantings. Lastly, hardy small leaf hollies, like Ilex crenata "Compacta" are an excellent substitute for boxwood in foundation plantings.

The right plant for the right place should always be a gardener's motto. Adherence to it when selecting trees and shrubs for the landscape will yield a healthier garden environment. (And less work for the gardener!)

WHEN THE BUYERS WANT TO BARGAIN

You have done everything that your agent recommended to make your home look wonderful and you have cut the price to the bone. Then an offer comes in, and it is so low that you are offended! Is it possible to reconcile your differences and reach a meeting of the minds when faced with such an offer? It may not take many concessions from you to make it work if the people who love your house also love to bargain. Even though it seems that you are very far apart in dollars or terms, the real distance may not be all that great. Your Realtor can help you determine if the buyers are ready, willing and able to carry through with the transaction. If they are qualified, the next step involves looking at your differences. Make a list of the discrepancies, and then begin to look for areas where you have some flexibility. You may have to go back and forth several times in order to make the transaction work. The trick is to be patient and to not take the process personally!

Nutrition class

Tuesday, Feb. 27 the Nutrition Class will be held in the craft room. Weigh-ins will start at 9:30 a.m. and the class will begin promptly at 10. At this meeting Jean Webster, retired nurse volunteer instructor will speak on the danger of using the new cooking fat Olestra. This fat is being advertised as "a no fat, fat." The brand name is Olean and has just been approved by the FDA.

It will first appear in many snack foods. The company that has developed this product is advertising it as the greatest advancement made in frying foods. Jean will let you know at this class how this new form of fat is not safe but can destroy important vitamins such as A, B, C, and D in our bodies that keep us healthy. This class is a must for all. Don't fall for a good Ad, that could possibly put your health in jeopardy.

Cholesterol screenings

Nurse Ann will be giving cholesterol screenings Tuesday morning, Feb. 27 starting at 10. Please call the Center for an appointment by Friday, Feb. 23, 657-7595. Remember a high cholesterol means there is too much fat in your arteries. That will eventually block an artery, stopping the flow of blood to the brain or heart, causing a heart attack or stroke. It is a simple blood test. Ann will take and let you know the results.

Income tax

Don't forget to call the center for an appointment if you want you income tax prepared free of charge by a certified tax preparer. We are filling the openings available very quickly until the end of March.

Alzheimers Disease

Alzheimers Disease is increasing rapidly with our seniors. Despite extensive research, no medical treatment has been found to reverse or slow its progress. It is now the fourth leading cause of death among adults 60 years and older. Alzheimers Disease is a fatal disease of the brain. Victims slowly loose their ability to remember,to communicate an care for themselves and become totally dependent on another for daily care. A patient can live after being diagnosed from two to 20 years. This disease can put a tremendous strain on a caregiver. Coping with it at times is unbearable for them. There are services that can be helpful to prevent a tragic circumstance happening. Most hospitals and nursing homes in the area have excellent support groups. The Alzheimers Association can advise you where to get help. They have some very good tapes and books to help families cope and care for the patient. Call 1-617-494-5150.

Sewing, knitting, crocheting

The sewing, knitting and crocheting class has resumed, Thursday mornings from 9 a.m. to noon, under the direction of Ann Latta and Marilyn McCarthy. These two women are extremely talented. Ann's hobby is making clothes for dolls, and knitting. If you have a doll you would like to fix up and dress for a granddaughter or friend as a gift, take it to the class and Ann will each you how to make the clothes. If it is knitting or crocheting Marilyn will be happy to teach you her hobby.

Any senior in this class, craft, ceramic and shop class and seniors who make articles at home can price them, put your name on it and put the article in the glass cupboards in the craft room. Many times we are asked if the seniors sell any of their articles they make. If they are in the glass cupboards, a volunteer will show them. We will call you to pick up your money when an article is sold.

We are in need of donated wheelchairs and tub seats. With so many of our seniors falling this winter, we have loaned out all of these articles we had at the center. We would appreciate the donation.

For three WHS Winter sports teams it's

State Tournament Time!

Hey, what's with the big round hockey puck? Wilmington High School Hockey players Ryan Haubner (shooting), John Considine (far back), Lee Trimarchi, Jason Dango and Danny Abbott wanted to take on the freshmen basketball players at the WHS pep rally held in the gymnasium on Friday afternoon. However, Haubner threw up an airball and freshmen Jackie Eldridge sank her first shot to prove that the hockey players are hockey players and not basketball players. N'i-c-e try, guys! Hockey team could see familar faces

by James Pote

With two more games later this week on Wednesday and Friday, after beating Lowell and Hamilton-Wenham this past week and losing to Methuen, the Wilmington High School varsity hockey team will find out who they will face in the opening round of the state tournament on Tuesday, Feb. 27. The first round of the tournament will begin that Saturday.

Last year, representing the Merrimack Valley Conference, Wilmington lost in the first round to their now Cape Ann League nemesis Masconomet, 1-0, in their first tournament appearance since 1990. Now, in their first year in the Cape Ann League, Wilmington has won the large school division and has an overall record of 14-3 compared to last year's 10-10 regular season overall record.

Even though last year's team was bigger, this year's team is a lot quicker. Who they will draw remains to be seen, but if Tewksbury doesn't enter the Elite Eight tournament, the Redmen will be seeded first. Besides Wilmington and Tewksbury, look for Danvers, Newburyport, Canton, Gloucester, Franklin, Rockland, Hingham, Bishop Fenwick, Marshfield, Triton, Springfield Cathedral, and Boston Latin to also be in the thick of the division two pairings.

Wilmington has lost to Newburyport 3-1, while they beat Triton and then Bishop Fenwick in a scrimmage before the season started. Danvers seemed like the team to beat with their 16-1-1 record before Monday, but they entered the same tournament Wilmington did and they got hammered 10-1 by Acton-Boxboro in the game before the Cats-Methuen match-up. In other words, the cliché "anyone can beat anyone on any given day," comes to mind in this tournament.

But, several teams like Danvers, Rockland, Gloucester and especially Tewksbury, have tremendous offensive weapons. True, Danvers is in the weak Northeastern League, but they are led by the tandem of Jeff McGonagle and Jeff Harrington, who combined for 62 points last year and have doubled that amount already this season.

Rockland are led by freshman Mike Casagrande and senior Bob MIller as they have combined for 98 points thus far. The final impres-

Boys basketball team in middle of division two

by James Pote

When they boys basketball team is hot, they are hot. And hopefully, they will continue their latest winning streak into the state tournament, which will start early next week with the drawing this Friday.

Before the season started, the team's outcome was a little weary because of the young and unproven talent on the team. But, that quickly was thrown out as the team won their first six games, including the Knights of Columbus Christmas Tournament. They then quickly hit a snag, losing six of their next eight games and standing in the middle of the Cape Ann League pact at 8-6.

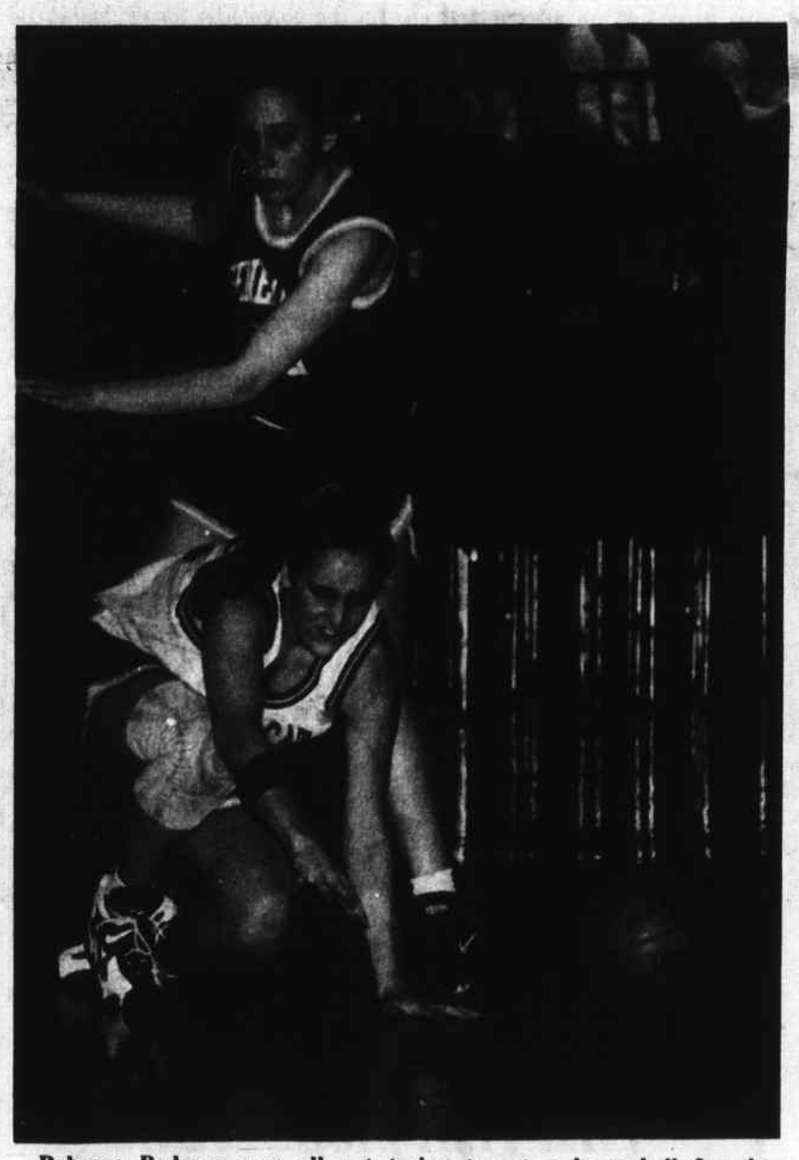

With six games left in the season, the team rebounded and got themselves back together to win five of those to put their record at a very respectable 13-7 overall. Last year they were 10-10 overall and they lost in the first round of the tournament to Weston - this year head coach Jim McCune would like to take that one more step.

"How we will do will all depend on who we will match-up against," said McCune. "There are a lot of great teams out their. It's going to be hard without [all-star] Scott Swiezynski, who is out for the remainder of the season, but that just means someone else has to step up like Dick Gillis and Brian Thresher have been.

"We are going to need some big points out of Doug [Olender, who was voted all-conference and an all-star] and our guards. They have been doing a great job this year and we need to be shooting well if we want to go places. If we limit our turnovers on offense and just play solid defense, like we have been doing all year, then we should be in good shape," McCune summed up.

Girls hoop team in for third straight year

by James Pote

With an incredible first half individual performance by senior captain forward Leanne Harris, the Wilmington High School girls varsity basketball team will be making its third straight state tournament appearance with their 62-41 trouncing of Hamilton-Wenham on Friday night.

Harris, with her 16 points, 11 rebounds and four steals just in the first half, led the team to its 10th win and fourth state tourney berth in the last five years.

The drawing for the division two state tournament this Friday night. The tournament will begin just a few days thereafter.

But, besides no one being able to stop Harris, who ended with 20 points, she had plenty of help from her teammates. Senior guard Jenna Tait added 13 points of her own, as she and Harris combined for 55 percent of the team's scoring. Lisa Southmayd, who was named to the all-star team along with Harris (who was also named all-league) added seven of her own.

"We finally played 32 minutes of basketball - everyone did a great job tonight, everyone. Our goal was to make it to the state tournament and we did it. Whoever we play we will play up to our capabilities," head coach Beth Kapnis said.

Wilmington led from the get-go and never looked back. They started out leading 11-3 and then 17-10 - and then they really opened it up with a 15-0 run from 7:55 to 3:10 of the first half.

Besides Harris, Tait and Southmayd, who combined for 40 points, 19 rebounds and 8 steals, Rebecca Rodgers, Kristin Flynn, Lisa Timulty and Karen MacArthur also chipped in, combining for 18 points, 8 boards and 5 steals.

As previously mentioned, the drawing for the tourney will be this Friday. Wilmington will be one of, if not the last team seeded with their 10-10 record. They will play one of the top teams in division two, whether it be Burlington, Dighton-Rehobeth, Masconomet, Fontbonne or Belmont. Of those, they played Masco and lost by at least 25 points both times behind sophomore sensation Brianne Stepherson, who is averaging 14 points per game for the Chieftains.

Merrimack Valley Football League could be adding a few more teams

by James Pote

The Tewksbury High School football team could play Medford, Boston Latin or Lincoln-Sudbury in a league game as early as the 1998 season. And Chelmsford could be matched-up against Everett, Peabody, Waltham and Acton-Boxboro.

Tewksbury High School Athletic Director and Merrimack Valley Conference Football Commissioner Mickey Sullivan presented two different proposals in which the MVC, Dual County League and the Greater Boston League would combine into either three or four different divisions just for football, under the name Metro-North League.

Sullivan said that the GBL voted 9-1 and the MVC voted 10-0 to consider these two proposals as a starting point for a discussion aimed at having every student-athlete who participates in football being given an equal opportunity to play in competitive games. That is not the case for many teams in these three leagues.

"I'm not doing this for Tewksbury. We can stay right where we are and remain competitive," Sullivan said. "I'm doing this so every student can have success in football."

Sullivan said that several teams in the GBL seem like they haven't won a game in the 1990's, that Dracut and Lawrence can't compete any more in the MVC and several of the teams in the DCL can no longer compete either. So his two proposals (which he said are just preliminary discussions any portions of which can be adjusted with different ideas from his collegues) would allow for either three or four competitive divisions of football. The present situation, where leagues feature three or four great teams, with the rest of the league at rock bottom, would be eradicated.

"I love the Merrimack Valley Conference. I'm not trying to break up leagues - I'm trying to combine them. There is the age old idea that city teams can beat suburban teams - but, any team can beat any other team in any given year.

"With some ramifications, the hockey realignment has worked real well. Dracut will be going to the tournament and they are 12-4, or something like that. That shows that the realignment has worked. But, Lawrence has only beaten Lowell four times on Thanksgiving in the last 50 years. Do you think Lawrence likes to spend their final day playing football getting their heads handed to them?

"We want every kid to have success - no matter if they are from Lawrence, Dracut, Revere, Weston or Tewksbury - every team should be competitive and hopefully this is a way in which they can be," Sullivan said.

Sullivan sent out his proposals to the athletic directors and principals of every town of the three leagues. He admitted that he went on a few assumptions with his new plan, but he said the proposals were not neccessarily done with numbers, but on tradition, coaching and programs as well. He said the DCL will be voting whether or not to consider the realignment later this month. But, during March 20-22, the athletic directors of the three leagues will meet and discuss the matter further.

Sullivan's first proposal is:

Division I	Division II
Acton-Boxboro	Andover
Arlington	Billerica
Central Catholic	Boston-Latin
Chelmsford	Dracut
Everett	Lincoln-Sud.
Haverhill	Medford
Lowell	Methuen
Peabody	Tewksbury
Waltham	Westford

Division III

Bedford
Cambridge R&L
Concord-Carlisle
Lawrence
Malden
Newton-South
Revere
Somerville
Wayland
Weston

• This would allow for eight conference games and two non-league games.

The second proposal is:

Division I	Division II
Arlington	Andover
Central Catholic	Acton-Box.
Chelmsford	Billerica
Everett	Haverhill
Lowell	Lincoln-Sud.
Peabody	Methuen
Waltham	Tewksbury

Division III	Division IV
Bedford	Camb. R&L
Concord-Carl.	Dracut
Boston Latin	Lawrence
Medford	Malden
Newton South	Revere
Wayland	Somerville
Westford	Weston

• This would allow for six conference games and four non-league games.

Sullivan said he likes the first proposal better, but both he and his head coach, Bob Aylward, would be happy with either one. He also said the first proposal fits nicely in that three winners (one from each division) could get automatic Super Bowl berths. But under the second proposal, the new league could not send four different teams (one from each division) to the Super Bowl.

Sullivan said his proposals are just a starting point and that the GBL and DCL seem to fit rather than the Middlesex League, which seems content with keeping their league as is. He said since the GBL and MVC voted 19-1 in favor of considering to discuss either one further, he thinks that is a big step.

"There is hope that something comes out of this, Sullivan said. "Hopefully, the Dual County League is interested. If not, then perhaps the Merrimack Valley and Greater Boston Leagues would combine. Who knows? On March 21 we will know if this will be born or if it will die."

Cyr continues outside game for Tewksbury boys hoop team

by James Pote

With the season coming to an end this week, the signs of the Tewksbury High School boys varsity basketball team making progress was shown on Monday afternoon. Despite their overall record of 5-13, including their close 73-65 loss to Lawrence, the team displayed their improvement from the start of the season with a strong effort against the Lancers.

After trailing by nine and then one and then back up to nine again in the first half, the Redmen trailed by seven at halftime. The second half was much the same. With the lead swinging between six to nine points in the first ten minutes of the second half, Tewksbury was able to close it to four with just 48 seconds left to go after two three-pointers from Carl Cyr and Nick Amato. That point victory which gave them the MVC small school championship.

Carl Cyr, who has been on fire, led the team with 16 points, including four three-pointers - he also added six boards. Also in the mix was the combination of Mike Torode, Dan Fitzgerald, Amato and Ron Bernard, who all had eight points, while, they also combined for 19 rebounds as well. Matt Petros also contributed with four points in the losing effort.

Carl Cyr, who has been looking like Dana Barros, continues to bury the three-pointers as he did here against Lawrence in the team's 73-65 loss on Monday. (Photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

Stars of the Week

Wilmington

Leanne Harris, girls basketball - Harris had a near perfect first half for the WHS Girls Hoop team on Friday night. She had 16 points, 11 boards and four steals and she was nearly unstoppable. Her effort help the team enter the state tournament with their 10-10 record. Harris was also named as an all-star and an all-conference player.

Doug Olender and Scott Swiezynski, boys basketball - Both of these guys were named to the all-star team, with Olender also being named to the all-conference team. However, Swiezynski, a sophomore, will not play due to an ankle injury.

Jason Dango, Danny Abbott, John Considine, Ryan Haubner + Dennis Torpey, WHS Hockey - These five guys were all named to the all-star team. They will play on Sunday at Merrimack College. Dango and Considine will play at 5:00, while, the other three will play at 7:00 in two different MVC-CAL all-star games.

Tewksbury

Andy Beasley and Nick Gangemi, TMHS Hockey - Beasley was very impressive on Monday afternoon when he scored four goals in the team's 9-2 victory over Canton. Three of those came in the first period.

Gangemi continues to come up big as the goaltender for the team. He almost came away with three shutouts in three games this week, but a Billerica goal with less than a minute left to play ruined that bid. However, he gave up just that one goal in seven periods of play.

Dave Shunamon, Mike Howell, Dan Sdankus and Rob Donovan, TMHS Wrestling - These four guys represented Tewksbury at its best with a great weekend at the division two state wrestling tournament held at Salem High School. Shunamon became a state champion in the 171 pound weight class, while, Howell took second in the 189, and Donovan and Sdankus swiped fourth and sixth, repsectively.

sive tandem comes from Gloucester, where Mario Orlando, Jason Harrington and John Karvelas have combined for 147 points in the Atlantic Coast League.

All 13 teams mentioned made it to the state tournament last year - as did Wilmington, so inexperience will not be a factor. Canton, who Tewksbury destroyed 9-2 on Monday night, will be making their 27th straight state tournament appearance. Wilmington has just two seniors on its team, while Canton has three. Rockland, Marshfield and Masconomet all have ten seniors on their teams.

Wilmington has to do several things in order to get by the first round of the tournament. First, they have to play better in their own end, as they have slacked off as of late. With defensemen Mike Berian and Brian Hermann set to return this week, the defense will get a major boost. Second, they can't have everything ride on goaltender Jason Dango's shoulders as it did last year in the tourney.

They also need to get production out of all three lines - not just the first, the first and second, the first and third or the second and third - all three lines. Tewksbury won the division two state championship last year when they had strong goaltending (which Wilmington has), a solid four defensemen (which the Cats have had, but inconsistently) and three solid lines (which Wilmington also has had play inconsistently).

Finally, they have to stay out of the penalty box - who knows for how long they can continue to kill off penalties at a 90 percent clip?

After Dango tossed his seventh shut out of the season last Wednesday when the team blanked Lowell 8-0, he then got his eighth just three days later when the Cats blanked Hamilton-Wenham 5-0.

Dennis Torpey lit the lamp just 36 seconds into the Hamilton-Wenham game on a nice pass from the boards from Charlie Ross. Ross, Danny Abbott, John Considine and Torpey again rounded out the scoring, with all of them adding single assists as well as Chuck and Justin Vallas, Brian Farkas and Ryan Haubner. Dango made 14 saves.

On Monday night in the first round of the Newburyport Bank Hockey Tournament, Wilmington lost to a very tough Methuen squad 4-1. Methuen, who only had one win before Monday along with four ties, broke the game wide-open with three third period goals - all on Wildcats defensive mistakes.

"We had veteran players who didn't believe in playing defense, who let uncovered players out front and that's why we lost. I thought we had a good effort for two-and-a-half periods and then they decided not to play defense," head coach Steve Scanlon said.

Wilmington had a golden opportunity in the first period to break open the dam when Methuen received a four-minute major butt-end penalty and then a minor holding call two minutes later. Wilmington, who put 20 shots on Ranger netminder Jason Daigle in the first period, including nearly half of those in that power play, just couldn't slip one by him in the early goings.

Dennis Torpey scored the lone Wilmington goal in the third period on a slapshot from a very tough angle at the side of the net that just landed underneath the crossbar.

This Sunday will be the annual Merrimack Valley-Cape Ann League as well as MVC-Greater Boston League all-star games being played at Merrimack College. The first two games, the CAL and MVC teams will be split up into two different game starting at 5:00. The second game will be at 7:00 with the finale at 8:30.

Scanlon and his assistant Chip Bruce will be coaching an all-star team (the 7:00 CAL team) for the second year in a row. As for players, Dango and junior forward John Considine will be playing the early game, while, Ryan Haubner, Abbott and Torpey will be playing at 7:00.

round, something they did two years ago, they need not only to play 32 minutes of basketball, but they need to do several other key things as well.

First, they need to set up their offense and not take so many crazy shots. They have to get production from their outside game or their bigger players inside will be double-teamed. They have to rebound - especially defensively as other teams seem to dominate in that area and that always seems to hurt at the worst times.

And last but not least, probably the most important thing for this team, they need to hit their free throws. They have been getting better as of late, but that has hurt them in many of their ten losses.

McCune also said that his team was moving up and down the divisional seedings as he spoke with this writer. He said his team should be anywhere between the ninth and twelfth seeds. He said teams like Bishop Fenwick, Lynn Classical, Swampscott, Wayland, Stoneham, and Bedford will be the early favorites. But, Wilmington will most likely draw either Northeast Regional, Lynn Tech, Greater Lowell, Dom Savio or Winchester, in the opening round.

"I have seena lot of these teams play. I'm concerned that a team like Bedford who has many players built like football players, will dominate us in rebounds. We can rebound - when we play these teams it will be very critical not to turn the ball over," McCune said.

The team desperately will need a complete team effort. If Olender and guards Jeff Arciero and Mike Gargan are shooting well, they must get production out of the middle, to open up the inside game. Whether it is, Gillis, Thresher or Rob Eldridge or all three of them, the Cats need big production rebounding, scoring and defensively from the big position.

"Those guys have been playing very well lately - we not only need them to play well, we need everyone to play well," McCune said.

The bench will also be a big key for McCune's squad. With those three combining at the center position, Brian Carroll has moved to the small forward spot, replacing Swiezynski, and he has stepped up his play as of late also. But, defensive specialist Phil Bates, as well as rebounding specialists Mike Caira and Steve Kosmidis will all serve a big role inthe state tournament.

When this team is hot, they are at boiling point. But, when they are cold, they are at freezing point. If the Cats are going to survive and win a few tournament games, not only do they need to rebound, play good defense and limit their turnovers, but they need the production from the middle, they need to be shooting well and most of all, they need to jump out with an early lead.

Connecticut golf tourney

The 1996 Connecticut Junior Classic Golf Tournament will be held Tuesday, August 13, 1996 at the Blackledge Country Club in Hebron, Ct. U.S. Bids, Inc. of Fairfield, Ct. is the corporate sponsor for the event. Ira Ratner is the tournament chairman.

Boys and girls ages 10 to 18, including all 1996 high school graduates are eligible to participate. Thee is a $50 entry fee.

Applications are available at all golf course pro shops and golfers warehouse stores throughout Conn. Applications may also be obtained by calling the sponsor at 203-319-3000. The application deadline is May 15.

The Classic, now considered a major national junior event, is the most competitive stroke play championship played in Conn. Nineteen ninety-five champion Will Snelling fired a three under par 69 over the 6,600 yard par 72 championship layout at Blackledge.

Tricia Watkins the 1995 girls championship shot a six over par 78 to win her first major event. Both nationally ranked juniors, Snellings and Watkins will be returning to defend their title against a very strong field which is open to contestants from around the country.

Easter Seal Volleyball games

Men and women all over Massachusetts are getting ready to earn 1996 Easter Seal Volleyball t-shirts by participating in the 16th annual Easter Seal Volleyball Games.

This year, games will be held on March 16 at Chelmsford High School in Chelmsford; on March 22, 23 and 24 at Reading Memorial High School in Reading and on March 24 at West Middle School in Andover.

The Games support Easter Seal services for men, women and children with disabilities. Any group can organize a team to play, with competition at every level from beginner to champion. Every team wins a trophy. Every player has the satisfaction of helping people with disabilities expand their independence.

Prizes include t-shirts, Converse athletic shoes, Red Sox tickets and volleyball gear. Games are supported by Century 21 and WB56.

For help in forming a team or registration for the 1996 Easter Seal Volleyball Games, call Easter Seals at 617-482-3375.

THE PERSONAL TOUCH
QUESTION: I am bombarded by mail offers for insurance. It's difficult for me to separate facts from hype. I need insurance like every other homeowner, car owner and family man. Where can I get professional advice that I can trust?
ANSWER: The answer to your question is — yes, there is someone — an Independent Insurance Agent! The reasons are strictly personal. Personal service on a one-to-one basis. Personal contact — you're dealing with an individual who is sincerely interested in you. Remember, the Independent Agent is in business for himself, works WITH many insurance companies, but SERVES only his clients!

Tewksbury Pee Wee III win two

Tewksbury
PeeWee III 4 Andover 3

In Valley Youth Hockey action, the Tewksbury PeeWee III team was edged by Andover 4-3. Andover scored first in this hard hitting contest at 3:36 in the first period and again with less than a minute left in the period to give Andover a 2-0 lead at the end of one.

Tewksbury bore down in the second period and it became more of a defensive struggle with some ferocious hitting with little or no penalties called. Andover scored at 6:50 of the second period.

Tewksbury really came on in the third period by scoring all three of their goals. The first goal was scored by David Bunten at 10:47, with nice passing and two assists, one by Matt Belmonte and one by Marco Bristol.

The second Tewksbury goal came at 2:49 by Ryan Carrigan with an assist from Bobby Giasullo. The third and final Tewksbury goal came on a nice assist and pin point passing from J.R. Wareham to Ryan Carrigan for the goal with less than two seconds on the clock.

With suspense building as the faceoff came to center ice, old father time ran out on the Tewksbury toughs with the clock running out. Richie Chambers and Jonathan Leone were both resilient in goal, as Kevin Zimmerman and David Cabradilla played well at the forward position. Adam Hill and Chris Beek were solid in defense.

PeeWee III 7 Methuen 0

In Dual State League play Tewksbury PeeWee III beat Methuen 3 by a score of 7-0. Tewksbury scored two goals in the first period and never looked back. Ryan Carrigan had two goals, one assist and Adam Hill had one goal, two assists while Kevin Zimmerman had one goal, one assist. Bobby Giasullo, Marco Bristol and Matt Belmonte had one goal apiece and David Cabradilla had one assist.

Although the score doesn't show, it was a hard fought game with a superb effort in goal by both Richie Chambers and Jonathan Leone. The Bruise Brothers Adams Hill and Rooney tallied Tewksbury's five penalties of their 10 and Dave Buntin offered excellent forechecking and a strong defense was offered by Dennis Barnes and Chris Beck.

Outdoors column

S.W.E.A.T Derby is Sunday

by Bill Conlon

I believe the Chinese put it best: "It's not the mountain before you that's so daunting as the pebble in your shoe." Little things can be awfully annoying at times.

At the beginning of every fishing season, my first trip is the "shake-down" cruise. Make a list and check it twice, but somehow I always find a way to leave something behind. It never fails.

This year, on my first trip out on the ice, I forgot a sounding weight. A humble little device, but I found a way to forget to bring one.

In ice fishing, once you bore your hole through the ice, you need to know how deep the water is. Most fish hang pretty close to bottom, so you need to know precisely where to place the bait -- within inches.

A sounder is a weight that clips onto your hook. You simply clip on the weight, and bomb's away! In a few seconds, when the line stops, you know the precise depth.

My uncle uses an old spark plug for a sounding weight, or you can buy factory-made items for about a buck apiece at your favorite tackle shop. Instead, I made my own.

One autumn night I sat down with a handful of tire weights, the round end of an aluminum cigar tube, and a few "alligator" clips purchased at Radio Shack. I melted the lead tire weights on the kitchen stove (in a small skillet that's used exclusively for melting lead) and poured out a dozen weights. They clip securely onto the hook, but I'm in constant fear that some minion of the law is going to spot the sounder clipped to my windshield visor and question me about drug paraphernalia.

Under normal use, a sounder will last a lifetime or two. Unless it falls off. Yes, it happens.

On my shakedown cruise, with my sounder clipped to the visor but NOT onto my pocket flap where it belongs, I used the nail clipper off my key ring. I thought about using my whole key ring, but I could see myself screaming down the hole at my truck keys, knowing that the bottom of the pond in mid-winter is slightly more accessible than the moon, but not by much. The nail clipper was too light, but it did the job.

Used properly, a sounder will tell you more about the pond than just the depth. Much more.

When my sounder hits bottom, I play with it a minute to learn what's down there. By jigging the weight off the bottom, and I can tell what kind of floor I'm fishing over.

If the weight thumps the bottom, it's probably sand. If it clicks, the bottom is rocky. I then jig around the hole, to see if it's just one rock or the entire bottom. If the sounder snags on the way up, I know I can expect weeds. And if the weight just oozes to a stop with no appreciable feedback, it's a mucky bottom.

Now, with ice fishing, you set the depth by marking the line, so you can always put the minnow back at the same depth. Mark off the six or eight inches for the tipup, then the rest is negotiable. I tie a slip knot in the line and put a bit of toothhpick in the loop, but some prefer sliding buttons on the line. To each...

With a muck bottom, I want the minnow at least six inches above the "bottom" indicated by the weight. (A minnow buried in the muck isn't going to be seen.) With a sand or rock floor, I'll fish the bait closer to the ground.

Weeds you have to play by ear. I try to put my bait above the weed level, to keep it visible, but that can mean adjusting the depth with each bait-check. You never can tell.

I'm won't forget my sounder next time out. I've now got two clipped to my pocket flaps, one on the visor in the truck and another in my hook box.

With my luck, I sure don't want to risk my truck keys.

--- Tackle Box ---

My humblest apologies to the nice folks in S.W.E.A.T. and MetLife Outdoors. Somehow, the notice of the annual S.W.E.A.T.-MetLife ice fishing derby came into the Town Crier office, and even appeared on the Coming Events page, but it was never given to me. Sigh...

So, herewith: the 12th annual ice fishing tournament on Ames Pond in Tewksbury, but the Shawsheen Watershed Environmental Action Team (S.W.E.A.T.) and MetLife Outdoors, will be this Sunday, Feb. 25, from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Entry is $10 each, no vehicles allowed, and a license is required. Call MetLife at (617) 437-1508 on the day for a status check. Ice permitting, I'll be there with bells on my toes (and a sounder on my pocket flap).

The Greater Lowell Fly Fishers had a good turnout on Long Sought For Pond in Westford on Sunday. First place and 300 smackers went to Kathie Lyerly of North Billerica for a 4.1 pound bass. (A lady on the ice! What next!) Second went to Emory "Junebug" Tomblin from Tyngsboro, who took first place in GLFF's previous event, for a bass weighing 4.07; third place went to Dave Payson of Billerica for a 3.92 bass; fourth place was taken by Dan Sheehan of Tewksbury for a 3.88 pound bass; Dan Scott of Derry, NH, took fifth with a 3.77 bass; Tom Regan of Lowell won sixth place with a 3.54 bass; Todd O'Neil of Merrimack, NH, held seventh on a 3.15 largemouth; Joe Lyerly (did they have a hotspot or what?) won eighth place with a 3.04 pickerel; Howie Rich of Nashua, NH, earned ninth place with a 2.99 pickerel; and Jerry Boucher of Chelsmford held onto the caboose position with a 2.85 bass. Your humble narrator took a few small pickerel during the event, and spent the rest of the day getting windburn on his face.

Tewksbury Rod & Gun Club is offering another free Hunter Safety Course soon. Starting at 7 p.m. on March 7, and continuing Thursday nights afterward, the course leaves you with a state hunter safety card upon successful completion. The course is fun, informative, and the card will become more important in years to come. Be there!

Tewksbury Softball Meeting

Tewksbury Girls Softball will be holding a constitutional change meeting Tuesday, February 27 at Livingston Youth Recreation Center at 7 p.m. Purpose: to allow 18-year-olds to play. Open to everyone interested in girls' softball. Call Bill Fabiano, president at 508-851-0252.

Tewksbury Mite A's blank Rockets

The Tewksbury Mite A team played twice this past weekend, coming home with a win and a tie. Tight team defense and good puck movement on offense were evident in both games.

Tewksbury 6 Reading 0

In Saturday's 6-0 victory over Reading, Frank Halley pitched the shutout for the Redmen. Jenna Bristol and Dave Balfour picked up the pace in front of Halley to shut down the Rockets. Jared Leone, Sarah Russell and Johnny "Flipper" Marazzi all set up Brian Macy who scored four goals. Good combination work by the line of Billy Deferrari (two assists), Ryan Walsh (one goal one assist) and Pat Cullity (one goal) was good to see. Evan Patten and Todd Richards were strong up front.

Tewksbury vs Wilmington

Sunday's Valley League matchup with rival Wilmington was played at an even faster pace. Playing catchup the whole game, Bobby Fitzpatrick put the Redmen on the board, finishing off nice passing by Johnny Marazzi and Brian Macy.

Tewksbury's next goal was a super, individual, shorthanded strike by Pat Cullity. Frankie Halley kept the Redmen in the game with good defensive help by J.T. Boyle until Brian Macy tied the game at 3-3, finishing off a beautiful rush by defenseman Sarah Russell. Patrick Fitzmaurice played his usual smash and crash game at center. Tewksbury applied great pressure in the closing moments but couldn't snap the deadlock as the Wildcat goalie was very sharp.

Wilmington Mite C's slide past Hillies

Wilmington 6 Haverhill 3

This Sunday evening the Wilmington Mite C Youth Hockey team played probably their best game of the year, knocking off division leading Haverhill by a score of 6-3.

Eric Ollila started the scoring for Wilmington with 5:36 to play in the opening period. Steve Emery fired a shot from the point, the rebound came to Ollila in the slot, who slammed in a hard backhand.

A couple of minutes later, Wilmington forward Keith Irwin was crunched into the boards drawing a roughing penalty against Haverhill. Keith was OK and the Wildcats came out for the only power play of the game. Haverhill effectively killed off the penalty, but soon thereafter Wilmington came back to score. It was center Olilla again, this time popping in a wrister off a Rusty Grant shot, ending the first period with Wilmington ahead 2-0.

Justin Roberts had a super game in net for Wilmington, but the second period opened with a two-on-none break break which was too much for him to handle and Haverhill scored its first goal. Wilmington's Mike Fay, Chris Stafford and Chris Waisnor had some speedy rushes on net in the second period, but couldn't quite slam the puck home.

Eddie "Edzo" Tucker played an outstanding game with many blazing breakaways. Unfortunately for Tucker the Haverhill goalie made several great saves to keep him scoreless until Edzo flipped a smart wrist shot just over the goalie's outstretched glove to put Wilmington up 3-1.

About a minute late Ollila followed Tucker's lead by taking an Albert Fiorenza pass, sweeping in on a breakaway, firing a wrist shot, glove side to earn another hat trick and put the Wildcats out front 4-1. However, Haverhill wasn't giving up just yet as they scored with 2:28 left in the second.

Only three minutes into the third period Haverhill scored again, knocking in a loose puck in Wilmington's crease. With the core 4-3, things were getting very tense. But n the face off following the goal, Eric Ollila took control of the situation, winning the draw, barging through two defensemen, skating in and firing a shot into the twine putting Wilmington ahead again by two goals, 5-3.

With a two goal lead in hand, netminder Justin Roberts and his defensemen; Billy Schultes, Jason Buckley, Jason Randall and Steve Emery all clamped down and held Haverhill scoreless for the balance of the game. Edzo Tucker added an insurance goal, his second of the night (and third in the last two games) on yet another breakaway with 1:41 to play.

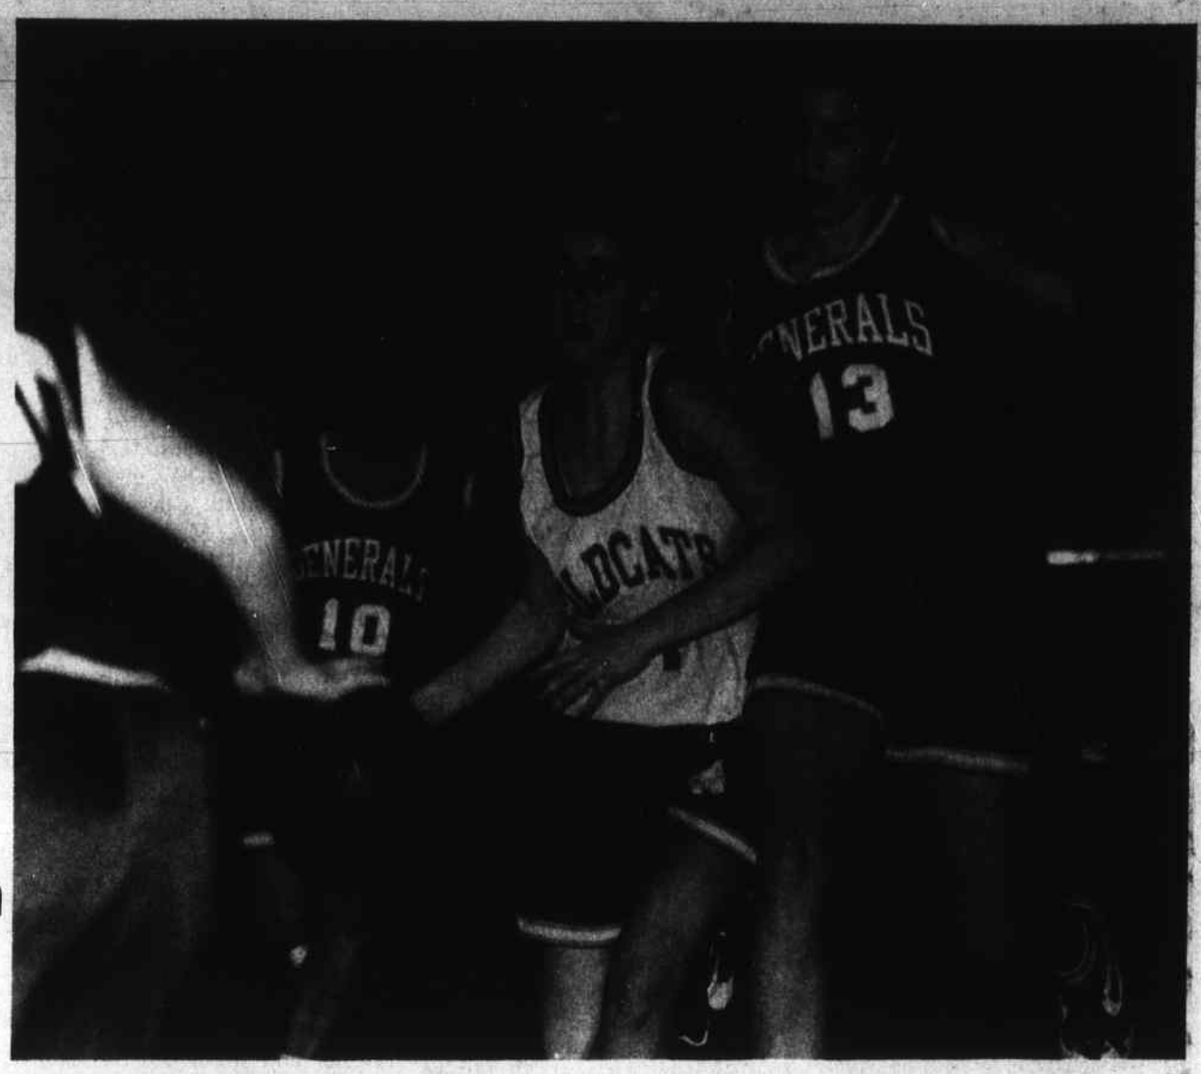

The next scheduled league game for the C's is Friday, Feb. 23 at 12:50 p.m. when they will take on Agawam at the MV Forum. The team will also be playing in a four game tournament during school vacation week - Go Wildcats!!!

Tewksbury Mite C's win big game

Mite Cs win big

The Tewksbury Mite C youth hockey team exploded for five third period goals to avenge an early season loss to North Reading, humoring the Hornets 8-4. Winning goalie C.J. Walsh had plenty of help as seven different Redmen scored goals. Billy Lavigac led the way with two goals. Single goals were netted by Colleen Fitzpatrick, Kenny Maglio, Leo Keefe, Andrew Bochart, Nicole Smith and Tommy Doucette.

Assists were earned by Bochart (two), Keefe, Fitzpatrick, Danny Allen, Robbie Rotundi and Johnny Cahalane. Matt Arcaro, Christian Giannelli and Matt Danecki were all solid contributors as well.

Jenna Tait pumped in 13 points in the Wildcats 21-point win over Hamilton-Wenham for their tenth win of the season allowing them to go to the state tournament. (Photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Paulette F. Jackson, formerly known as Paulette F. Kelleher, to Union Deposit Loan and Investment Bank, dated August 27, 1990, and recorded with the Middlesex North Registry District of the Land Court as Document No. 132723 on Certificate of Title No. 27500, assigned to Portfolio Acceptance Corp. by Land Court Document No. 161507, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, there will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described (the mortgaged premises: 79 Salem Street, Wilmington, Massachusetts), on March 8, 1996, at 11:00 A.M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage, namely:

The land in Wilmington in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

NORTHEASTERLY by Salem Street, 100.04 feet;

SOUTHEASTERLY by Lot 73, 163.88 feet;

SOUTHWESTERLY by Lot 86, 100 feet; and

NORTHWESTERLY by Lot 70, 160.92 feet.

All of said boundaries are determined by the Land Court to be located as shown on Subdivision Plan No. 2224C, Sheet Two (2), drawn by Alfred Millhouse, Civil Engineer, dated July 1921, as approved by the Court filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed with Certificate of Title 1603, and said land is shown as Lots Seventy One (71) and Seventy Two (72) on said plan.

Including as part of the realty all portable or sectional buildings, heating apparatus, plumbing, ranges, mantels, storm doors and windows, oil burners, gas and oil and electric fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings, air conditioning apparatus, and other fixtures of whatever kind and nature, on said premises, or hereinafter placed thereon prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage, insofar as the same are or can by agreement of the parties be made a part of the realty.

The successful bidder will be required to sign an Auctioneer's Memorandum of Sale and a Statement of Additional Terms at the conclusion of the bidding.

The premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, water bills, municipal liens, and assessments, if any there be.

The Purchaser shall be responsible for the cost of Massachusetts documentary stamps to be affixed to the foreclosure deed.

$7,000.00 will be required to be paid in cash (U.S. currency only), certified check, Bank Treasurer's check, or Bank Cashier's check by the Purchaser or Purchasers at the time and place of said sale, the balance within 30 days from the date of sale on the delivery of the deed.

In case of default by the highest bidder of his obligation to complete the purchase of the premises, the Mortgagee reserves the right to sell the premises to the second highest bidder by execution of the Auctioneer's Memorandum of Sale and Statement of Additional Terms with the second highest bidder for the amount of his bid and closing the sale to the second highest bidder within approximately 60 days from the date of the foreclosure sale.

Other terms, if any to be announced at the sale.

Tewksbury launches sidewalk program, but committee needs more volunteers

by Bill Conlon

Tewksbury wants to build more sidewalks, but finding people to fill the Sidewalk Committee is proving to be difficult.

The committee, which will work out a policy for sidewalk planning, has three members. Two members met each other for the first time on Tuesday night.

Mary Murphy and Laura Caplan, both volunteers serving on the sidewalk review board, met for the first time at Tuesday night's meeting of the board of selectmen.

Selectman Richard "Pete" Hanson also sits on the committee, but more volunteers are sought.

The committee will decide how to spend funds collected by the town planning board, for purposes of sidewalk construction. Developers who ask to install sidewalks on only one side of their projects, instead of both sides, are "asked" to make a donation to the town sidewalk fund.

The guiding force behind where new sidewalks are installed, Planning & Conservation Director Sean Sullivan said, is the proximity to schools. Students who must walk to school need sidewalks, Sullivan said Tuesday, and input from the school committee is helpful in picking the streets that will get walkways.

Last week, the selectmen voted to approve new sidewalk construction on the following streets:

South Street, for 1,800 feet from Mollie Drive to Salem Road, on the westerly side of South Street.

Pleasant Street, 2,000 feet from the High School to the Center School.

Hill Street, 1,860 feet from South Street to Main Street, on the southerly side of Hill Street, and

Main Street, for 4,300 feet from Liviingston Street to the Oakdale Mall.

Total cost of the sidewalk installation program is $25,655 out of the $32,448 balance in the sidewalk construction fund, with another $19,000 promised to the fund.

Volunteers wishing to serve on the sidewalk committee should call the selectmen's office, 640-4300.

"Just the right size", Sandra Roberts displays a dress at her new shop.

New "small" business opens

By Bob Carroll

While bargain shopping in towns outside of Wilmington for clothing and toys for her three children, Sandra Breton Roberts came to a logical conclusion: why not start my own bargain shop for children's items, and, while I'm at it, why not make it close to home?

A natural progression led Roberts, a 1978 graduate of Wilmington High School and mother of children aged 3, 7 and 11, to recently open Children's Express at 281 Main Street. It is the only clothing and toy shop in the area that has both new and used items.

"This shop is about saving money on children's clothing, toys and accessories such as car seats," said Roberts.

But while Children's Express deals in both new and used goods, Roberts added that it "is not a consignment shop. I pay cash for goods brought to me by moms and grandmothers, but I accept only like-new items. Bring the goods in one day, and collect your money the next."

An inveterate bargain shopper herself, Roberts guarantees her customers savings of 50 percent on like-new clothing. She added that she sells new items for ten percent less than the discount department stores.

With Children's Express, Roberts adds a new twist to bargain shops in that she is willing to order items patrons want.

"I can get you anything you want, usually within two weeks' time," she said.

Through her frequent trips shopping for three young children, Roberts got quite a bit of opportunity to examine bargain shops. The Wilmington-raised entrepreneur decided that her town should have a bargain store for children's goods and opened Children's Express last month.

Roberts has a free gift for each new patron who visits her shop during the month of March.

Children's Express hours are Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and Thursday and Friday from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Their phone number is 657-5718.

Leaping Lizards! New pet store opens!

by James Pote

Any reptile lovers out there? Snakes? Lizards? Turtles? Frogs? If it slithers, slides or crawls, you name it and D&S Reptiles of Wilmington has it.

On Feb. 13, co-owners Dave Hewitt of Dracut and Steve Bergeron of Lowell (who both also work at Anton's Cleaners in Wilmington), took their reptile collections from their homes and opened up shop at the Wilmington Center, right next door to Center News. And so far, this new, yet different buisness, is doing very well.

"It has been great so far - no problems," said Hewitt. "We have already paid for our rent."

Hewitt said that he has been collecting reptiles for about eight years now. He said he has worked with these animals before and he and his partner just want people to first know more about the unique animals, and for them to be able to enjoy having them for pets.

"We are not in it for the money. It's not even a job - it's a hobby. We don't want our prices to be high - we want to be competitve so people can have nice pets," Hewitt said.

Right now Hewitt admitted that some of the prices of the reptiles that have come from such faraway places as Indonesia and Australia, are a little high. But he said in a short time the store will be getting many more new pets that will cost a lot less.

"A lot of people like to express themselves in different ways. These pets are different and I think having them is a way to express yourself. A lot of people don't know much about them and hopefully this is one way for them to know more," Hewitt said.

Hewitt said none of the pets he has are dangerous. He said 99 percent of the time the snakes he has don't bite and the only time they do is when they haven't been fed in a long time. The snakes at his store, who don't have eyelids, Hewitt said, are fed once a week, typically with some kind of small rodent. He also said they are very easy to maintain.

"All people have to do is take proper care of them, Hewitt said. Reptiles lack a metabolism, so they need constant heat. If they are fed properly, have heat, light and clean water, they will be fine."

Other than the proper light, heat and food supplies, the reptiles need to be kept in a fish tank, which D &S also sells, for about $10 each. Hewitt said some animals need vitamins, the iguanas are vegetarians and the snakes eat rodents, so the food supply is very cheap.

D&S Reptiles has all kinds of snakes, which according to Hewitt have a life expectancy of 8-20 years. Most of the prices of the snakes range from $120 -$200.

Whether it be the six-foot long python, a Columbian Boa, a Blood Python, a California King Snake (which the store has already sold four of), a Diadem Rat Snake, a Corn Snake or many other baby snakes, the entire store is very versatile in the snake department.

"Snakes are a very misunderstood pet. They are probably the easiest to maintain. They only go the bathroom about once a week. They are very maintance free animals," Hewitt said.

Another reptile the store has, is a beautiful Red Eyed Tree Frog, which is priced at $45. This small frog with big red eyes and orange feet is one of many unique animals that is made up of many various colors. Other than snakes and frogs, Iguanas are also very popular too - Day Geckos, Leopard Geckos or just a plain old lizard are about $60 each. The store also has several Tarantulas, as well.

"We will be getting many more different frogs, turtles and lizards - mostly the smaller ones," Hewitt said.

D&S gets their new pets from local breeders, but he said since reptiles need warmth, most of them come from near the equator.

"They come from all over - not really from the Unites States, but mostly from Indonesia, Australia and the equator."

Thus far, many kids have visited his store. And, Hewitt said, once parents know the reptiles are not harmful, give in easier to kids' wishes.

"Parents are weary when they come in, but once they see how harmless they are, they give in and try it out."

D&S Reptiles is located at 420 Main Street in Wilmington. Their hours are Mon., Tues., Thurs., and Fri. 12-8 and Saturdays 12-5. They are closed on Wednesdays. Their phone number is 657-8772.

Anton's to provide 2,100 donated coats

The 37 branch stores of Anton's Cleaners joined efforts this winter with The Salvation Army and the Boston Bruins to provide more than 2,100 coats to families in need.

The Wilmington location alone collected 50 coats between Nov. 1 and Dec. 15. All donated items were cleaned courtesy of Anton's before being distributed in the Greater Lowell area by The Salvation Army.

The "Coats for Kids" drive was an important addition to The Salvation Army's annual Christmas castle program that provides clothes, foods and toys to needy families, according to Captain James H. Guest, Corps Officer of The Salvation Army.

"During these cold months, Anton's Cleaners and their customers can be proud knowing that their efforts are helping children who otherwise would have no defense against the cold," notes Guest.

Anton's Cleaners services customers throughout suburban Boston and southern New Hampshire. The Wilmington branch is located in the Wilmington Plaza.

KidSpeak

A voice heard in South Africa

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Books! They are something that is an everyday part of our lives.

In our schools, the only thing we worry about is that our children have the latest edition of the required textbooks.

We can go to a library and pick one up if we only need it for a short period of time, or we can go to one of many used and discount book stores to buy less expensive copies of books that we need or just like to read.

Some of us have so many books that we wonder what to do with them (keep this thought in mind).

Can you imagine what life would be like without easy access to books? Some people in South Africa do not have to imagine that lifestyle. Their problem is to find basic books for the education of their children. Sometimes just finding a book to read and escape into is a problem.

It was a problem that 11-year-old Wakefield resident and Galvin Middle School student Emily Kumpel heard about and decided to do something about it.

However, when she decided to help collect books for the young people in South Africa, she had no idea what a popular idea it would become.

"I really thought it would stay local," Emily said. "I never thought it would get the response it did."

That response has gone from receiving a few books with the help of her classmates to shipping books to South Africa by the cratefuls. She has won a state wide competition that has helped to fund her project and give it more publicity and is receiving phone calls from as far away as Martha's Vineyard offering books and seeking information.

"...Apartheid has ended, but change takes time and the children of South Africa need our help."

Kumpel has also been awarded the "Caring Award" from the Washington D.C. based, Caring Institute. She was one of 10-winners from across the country and received her award in the company of former President James Earl Carter and his wife Rosalyn, who were presented with the adult version of the award.

When asked why her idea as become popular, Kumpel readily said, "A lot of people want to make a difference, but they don't know how."

They all have the books around their house, Kumpel explained and this is an easy way for people to participate (remember that thought you were holding).

The program has become so successful that Kumpel noted one person called to donate 2,000 books.

But back to the beginning, which was about one-year ago.

Kumpel, member of the WBZ radio (1030) program, Kid's Company, and a straight A student read a story about Salem State College Professor Dr. Wayne Dudley who was collecting books and sending them to college students that needed them.

"I imagined what it would be like if I didn't have an education because I didn't have anything to learn with," Kumpel said.

She started out slowly on her collection by writing letters to the editors of local papers and enlisting the aid of her friends and other students in the school.

Some adults eventually thought it was a good program and started to bring books by her house.

The word started to spread and by December, Kumpel and her family plus a small cadre of friends: Nicole Camier, Laura Erban, Katy Latham, Jill Moores and Jennifer Yasi had collected about 14,000 books. These were personally delivered to Paul Sassmen, teacher and assistant principal of the Grassy Park School in South Africa, Ben Sassmen and Anthea Hendriks of Capetown, South Africa.

As with any good project, the realization soon sets in that funding is needed. At first Kumpel and company were able to raise funds with bake sales. However, when the project required more, it was time to put the creative juices to work.

Kumpel, Camier, Erban, Latham, Moores and Yasi put their heads together and came up with a skit to show the plight of their counterparts in South Africa.

Then the Brigham's Ice Cream Company came along with their "KidSpeak-A Voice for Kids" program. That included a challenge for a competition that Many of you I am sure, have seen boxcars of a freight train on a siding in a remote section of a railroad yard. They look ignored, forgotten and abandoned.

Sad to say, some people it seems to me, are like that, shunted aside from the main stream of life by their families, relatives and friends. The sad part is, most of those people are NOT necessarily old. Some are just too slow for the fast lane of the Jet-Set, Social butterflies and the so-called "Upper Crust" or "CRUMBS" of high society.

I met Meyer Tarlow not long ago in Stearns Hardware Store. (He worked with my father). "Meyer," I said, "You're over 80 years young and you are buying nails?" "Why not?" Meyer exclaimed, "I haven't time to get old."

Folks, God Bless all of "US" senior citizens because, the RACE is NOT necessarily won by the swift but by those like Meyer who keep on running.

My friend, George Gould, (a native of Prince Edward Island) at his 90th birthday party got up

-Flood Victim

"I thought I had planned for everything." These are the words of a flood victim—they could be yours. Thousands of people every year find out that it CAN happen.

Are you prepared for a flood? Did you know you don't have to live close to water to become a flood victim? Do you have flood insurance?

You need to know the answers to these questions. Because the terrifying truth is that floods can happen anywhere, anytime. Flood insurance is the best way to protect yourself before the flood hits. Flood damage often goes way beyond that of house and home. Flood victims not only lose their homes and treasured possessions, but rebuilding costs also eat up life savings, retirement funds and children's college educations.

You can protect yourself—through the National Flood Insurance Program. We have one mission: to restore the quality of life of flood victims as soon as possible. For more information, call us today.

Split-level schools?

Multi-age grouping considered

"While discussing next year's proposed school budget, school and town officials debated the use of multi-age grouping, a model in which students from different grades are taught in the same classroom," begins "School board considers multi-age classroom grouping," an article in the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"With 50 or 60 more students every year for the next five, six, or seven years, school officials need to come up with models to accommodate students other than hiring new teachers to reduce class size, stressed School Committee member James Evans.

"He said that with the town's proposed massive renovation project estimated at a cost well over $20 million, he hopes to see more innovative plans such as multiage grouping.

"'What are we voting for,' said parent Sandy Garlow, whose children are in pre-school, first and fourth grades. 'I'd rather hire teachers than have fancy locker rooms.'"

Spaced out

"The Tewksbury School Committee, on the recommendation of the Long Range Space Needs Committee ... adopted a motion to add two modular classroom units to the Louise Davy Trahan School and the North Street School," notes the Tewksbury edition of the "Town Crier," in "Classroom space fix: buy modular add-ons."

"With more children enrolling in Tewksbury public schools, space is running out.

"An alternative plan to adding the modular classroom was to redraw the town's school districts. Grade five would be moved to the Middle School and grade eight would have moved to Tewksbury Memorial High School.

"Over 150 parents who attended Wednesday's school meeting were overwhelmingly in favor of adding the modular classroom option and opposing the plan to redistrict.

"'It's time to make a decision,' said concerned parent Vincent DePierro who added 'It's obvious we need more room. We cannot do nothing.'"

Voted out

"The vote is in and the answer is a resounding no," reads "The vote: No and No" in the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"No to a bond issue for three new schools.

"No to a bond issue for new public safety buildings.

"A total of 4,251 people said no to Ballot Question number one which sought a bond issue of $13.6 million for the three new schools proposed to replace the seven elementary schools the Town has. Only 2,398 people voted for the issue. That authorization had passed a Special Town Meeting by 82 percent."

Students and costs jump

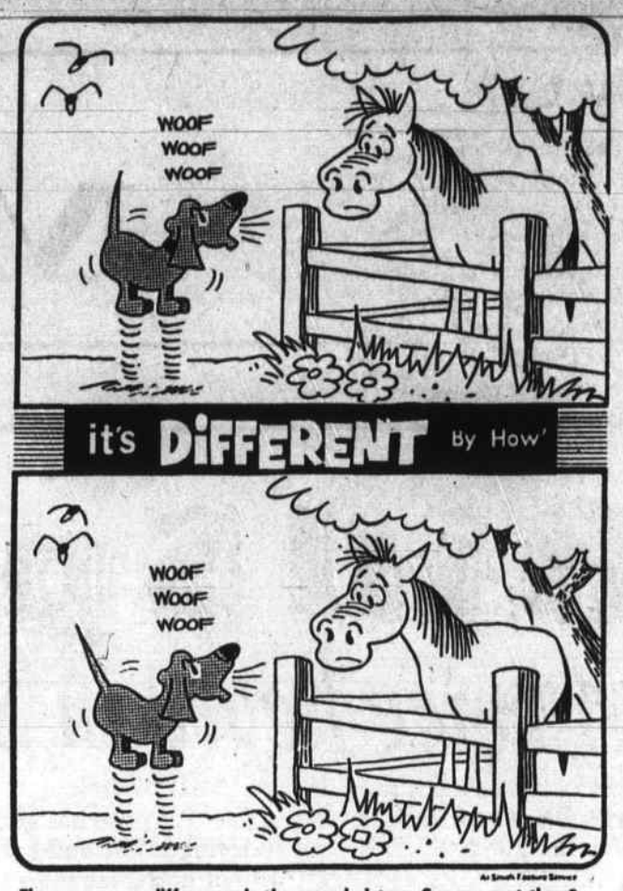

"The School Building Committee (SBC) is looking at a new set of options to construct additional elementary classroom space and price tags that could top the $11 million mark or perhaps even higher," reads "Estimated cost of classroom project continues to grow - Cost of new school jumps from $4.7 million to $6.5 million" in the "North Reading Transcript."

"Whatever the final project cost, the taxpayers' bill will be eligible for reimbursement of up to 64 percent from the state School Building Assistance Bureau, (SBAB), pending approval of the project.

"... the board and its architects reviewed different sets of projected enrollment figures. Though calculated in different ways, the estimates were virtually the same, and anticipated elementary enrollment of 1,465 by the school year 2005-2006, a substantial increase over this year's elementary head count of 1,142

"The SBC determined ... that if it sticks with three elementary schools, there will be 77 classrooms needed. However, if a move to four schools is made, that number jumps to 81. That is because of the need for additional music, art, computer and special education rooms in a new school, on top of regular classroom space."

Looking for a large cast

The North Regional Theatre Workshop held auditions for their spring musical production of My Fair Lady in early February. Whole most of the main characters have been cast, the role of Freddy (the 20-30ish young man who sings "On the Street Where You live") is still available, along with several other featured singing and speaking roles.

NRTW shows are known for their sizable choruses and full scale production numbers, and My Fair Lady will be no exception. NRTW is looking to expand their chorus for My Fair Lady, including additional dancers and singers, both male and female. All the smaller roles will be cast from the chorus as rehearsals progress.

Anyone interested in musical theatre is urged to join the show! Rehearsals started February 13, so call right away.

Rehearsals are held at the Union Congregational Church, Haverhill Street, North Reading, MA. Show dates are scheduled for the end of May at Wilmington High School, Wilmington.

For more information about My Fair Lady, please call 508-681-0355.

Choral Society opens rehearsals

"I like to sing, but not alone" reads the sweatshirt of one longtime member of the Wakefield Choral Society. The chorus, under the direction of David Morrow, is halfway through its 7th season, and is now tuning up for a series of spring concerts in May and June. Plans are underway for the chorus to perform jointly with the Northern Essex Symphony Orchestra.

Those who like to sing consider joining the Wakefield Choral Society at Open Rehearsals in February. The group meets on Monday nights, 7:30 pm in the Music Room at Wakefield High School on Farm Street.

Attend an Open Rehearsal and judge for yourself, or call Tom Merchant, WCS Manager, 617-264-6444 for more information.

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Up in smoke

Going

Wilmington Public Health Director Gregory Erickson has unveiled a proposal outlining regulations that would require Wilmington's cigarette retailers to be licensed, according to the Wilmington edition of the "Town Crier."

Reacting favorably to the overall draft and agenda, the board will hold a public hearing, with Erickson's blessings, regarding the regulations which are designed to "put some teeth in the board's bylaws dictating punishments for violation of state laws prohibiting sales of tobacco products to persons under the age of 18. Currently, there is a $300 fine for each offense; but if and when the board requires cigarette retailers to be licensed, the board would be able to revoke that license for a sales offense. The board would also be able to revoke a license for violating the regulations requiring the license."

Among several other regulations presented by Erickson are: no sales of tobacco products without a valid license from the Board of Health - sales include those over-the-counter, by vending machine or by canteen truck; a $5 licensing fee which Erickson termed a "throw-out," the fee being "a very small amount because the idea here is not for us to get revenue, it's just for us to cover the cost of the work"; non-transferable licenses, with separate licenses required for each retail outlet, even if there is a single owner; licenses expiring at the end of one calendar year, posted in conspicuous places, and issued only to those over 18; and a $50 fine for selling tobacco products without a license.

"'I am not in a hurry,' says Erickson, in the "Crier," about the regulations, 'because I want to make some changes.'"

Going

"On the heels of legislation passed earlier ... requiring the licensing of the sale of cigarettes in the city, the Board of Health has broadened its regulations calling for an outright ban on freestanding cigarette vending machines," notes the Woburn "Times," referring to a Board of Health vote to require every city store and restaurant which sells cigarettes to obtain an annual license to do so - and face a strict fine if they are caught selling cigarettes to minors.

One city agency, however, was critical of the fact that the new regulation failed to address the issue of free-standing vending machines.

The board has thus adopted a second set of regulations, this time prohibiting vending machines containing tobacco products. Although there are only about three stores and restaurants remaining with free-standing vending machines, these regulations will also impact local service clubs and organizations.

The regulation states that "no vending machines containing tobacco products will be allowed in the city" and that "the penalty for failure to remove a tobacco products vending machine will be $100 a day."

According to the Woburn City Solicitor, that regulation is legal.

Gone

The American Lung Association has been running monthly smoking cessation programs which meet twice a week for an hour and cost $35 - with partial reimbursement after successful program completion. For more information, contact Ruth Brophy, R.N. of the Reading-Stoneham Tobacco program at (617)942-9061 or 279-2621.

An opinion

Restaurant operators throughout the area who complain that they are suddenly losing business because their patrons cannot smoke during meals might want to look first at the quality of their product and then at its consistency.

KidSpeak

took place last October at the State House.

The Wakefield team came in first place in that competition which netted $3,000 for the project. It has also netted the corporate sponsorship from the Arlington based ice cream company. They have offered the use of their 35 locations as collection sites for the books and will be responsible for collecting and shipping 15,000 books to South Africa.

In her application to become a part of the competition, Kumpel wrote, "I selected this issue because I think everyone should be able to get an education. I learned about the conditions in South Africa after the end of apartheid and found that the children there desperately wanted books, paper, and other supplies."

To show her commitment to the proposal, Kumpel promised that the group would: put up posters in all the schools in Wakefield- the high school, middle school and seven elementary schools. We will go to the schools and talk with the teachers and students about the South African Book Drive. We will encourage the children to write pen pal letters to the children in South Africa. Our members will perform a skit about the children in South Africa and the end of apartheid. We will also leave boxes around the school.

On just the above point, the six members of the team regularly travel to the various elementary schools as soon as their classes at the Galvin are over and put on their skit for the children in those schools. They have also appeared at a meeting of the School Committee to inform them of the project and had their performance broadcast over the local cable access station.

As also promised, the group has arranged for Dr. Dudley to speak before the students and bring more word about his organization, Collaborative Education with South Africans.

In fact Dudley has been joined by Sassman for a second appearance in the Wakefield schools.

As part of the project, the shipping room has moved from the Kumpel garage to the Danzos Corporation which provides a shipping container for the collected books.

Kumpel also listed the future she sees for the project and wrote, "My dream is to someday have the South African schools connected to the World Wide Web so that our schools can easily communicate with each other.

"Think of what we could learn from each other. I hope to get donated equipment to make this possible. The $3,000 grant would pay for the shipping costs to send 15,000 books to South Africa."

So how much has this simple project grown, Kumpel reports that schools in Medford, Melrose Stoneham, Lawrence, Medway and Phillipston have all joined in their own version of the project.

The KidSpeak program provides a 1-800 number (1-800-880-1121) so that people can get more information about the program or find out where to make a donation.

As for your part in the program, it doesn't take much. Perhaps you have a book around the house that could be helpful to someone in South Africa, or maybe two books or maybe...

As the new poster for the program states: "Reach out and give the children of South Africa the gift of an education. By donating nearly new textbooks, children's story books, reference books, and educational materials we can supply an entire elementary school in South Africa. Apartheid has ended, but change takes time and the children of South Africa need our help."

and said, "Folks, if I knew I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself!"

My dear late mother listened to the "Gospel Singer" Edwin McCue almost every day on the radio. He started and ended his program singing, "If I have wounded any soul today, if I have caused one foot to go astray, Dear Lord Forgive."

Folks, radio, TV, and the movies have gone a long way down hill since then.

During the recent cold snap Kathy said, "Chipper, aren't you glad you insulated the attic last fall?" "I sure am," I replied, I'm so happy to know that we have the warmest junk in the neighborhood up there."

It sure was COLD. I saw a chicken walking with a, 'CAPON' and a 'Bumble Bee' with a 'Yellow Jacket.'

Folks, a humble gift given with LOVE, is a far greater treasure than the most precious jewels.

The doctor told George Burns years ago that smoking five cigars a day and drinking four martini's would kill him. George was asked, "What does your doctor think of his advice to you now on your 100th?" George smiled and said, "I don't know, he died 30 years ago."

"Well!" I snapped back, "Why didn't you bring me the winner?" "I was told to bring it to you, another LOSER."

Kathy was trying to get ketchup to come out of the bottle when the doorbell rang. It was Father Dennis Nason who wanted to speak to Kathy about the upcoming church bazaar. "I'm sorry Father Nason," I said, "She can't come to the door right now she's busy in the kitchen, 'Hitting the Bottle!"

The judge said to my cousin Angelo, "You look very familiar to me. Were you ever up before me?" "I don't know, your honor," Angelo replied, "What time do you get up?"

Folks, if you want to be liked, never lie about yourself and more importantly, be careful about telling the TRUTH about others.

Sonny Pearlman told his friend, Danny Simen, "The party invitation said, "Black Tie Only." When Sonny got to the party he found out to his embarrassment that every man there was wearing a SUIT too.

I asked George Gould (who had just bought a six foot stepladder), "Are you going to do some painting?" "No," he replied, "I'm going to a high Mass!"

Jolly Jim's open in new facility in Methuen

The Spring Edition of Jolly Jim's and the Northeast Collectibles Extravaganzas, an exciting two day, two event show, will usher in the first season at the new Valley Expo Center, Saturday March 2nd and Sunday, March 3rd, from 10am to 6 pm.

Special guest both days will be Meinhardt Raabe, well known to collectors and film buffs alike as the original Oscar Mayer "Wienerboy" at the 1933 World's Fair, and for his role as the Munchkin Coroner in the legendary 1939 musical, The Wizard of Oz.

He will be available to greet Northeast Collectibles expo-goers, sign collectors items and autograph souvenir photographs for a nominal fee. Jolly Jim's embodies the best features of an old fashioned marketplace, with all new quality merchandise and bargains galore from over 250 vendors from throughout New England and New York.

The Northeast Collectibles Extravaganza is a veritable treasure trove for the touchstones of pop culture, including antique and collectible toys, trading cards, comics, postcards, advertisements, premiums, and artifacts from rock & roll, movies and TV programs. Admission to Jolly Jim's is $3 per person; admission to the Northeast Collectibles Extravaganza including Jolly Jim's is $5 per person. Presented by Show Promotion, Inc., in conjunction with Gary Sohmers of Wex Rex.

The new Valley Expo Center is located at the Methuen Mall, Pleasant Valley Street, Methuen, MA, in the heart of the Merrimack Valley. For more information about the Valley Expo Center, or these and future events, call 508-681-9000.

CLASSICAL MUSIC CONCERT IN WALTHAM

An afternoon of beautiful music is planned as Vicky Lau, marimbist, presents a public concert on Sunday, March 10, from 3 to 4:30 in the lovely and acoustically rich ballroom of the Lyman Estate mansion.

Ms Lau will be joined by Michel Gentile, Flute, and Sabrina Learman, Soprano. They will perform works by J.S. Bach, Debussy, Villa-Lobos, Faure, Ravel and Schwantner in what promises to be an unforgettable performance.

To reserve seats, please call 617-893-7232. Prices are $8 for SPNEA members and $10 for non members. Seating is limited to 75, so call quickly to avoid disappointment.

RESPIRATORY ILLNESS & EMERGENCIES PROGRAM

Winchester Hospital begins a new program that is ideal for day care providers. Attend this program and learn the unusual characteristics of the pediatric airway, discuss pediatric respiratory illnesses such as bronchitis, pneumonia, and asthma, and be provided with an overview of the process of illness in children.

Jane Bowler, R.N., C.E.N., of the Winchester Hospital Emergency Department will speak. The program will take place on Wed., Feb. 28 at the Winchester Hospital Family Medical Center on 500 Salem St, in Wilmington. For more information and pre registration, please call the Community Health Institute at 617–756-4700.

COFFEEHOUSE HAS DON WHITE

The Full Cup Coffeehouse will present Don White on Saturday, February 24. One critic said of White, "For this brash, satirical and likeable humorist-songwriter, LIVE is what it's all about. He plays an audience the way Leo Kottke plays a twelve string."

Doors open at 7:30 pm, performance at 8 pm. Tickets are $7. For ticket outlets and information call 617-279-2039.

Held at All Saints' Episcopal Church, 79 Central Street, Stoneham. Smoke free and wheelchair accessible.

MOTHERS OF TWINS HOLD MEETING

The North Suburban Mother of Twins Club will be holding their monthly general meeting on Tuesday, February 27, at 7:30 pm at the Saugus YMCA, 298 Main Street, Saugus. The guest speaker will be Eve Blackstone from Twins Inc. She will speak about what it feels like to be a twin.

The Mother of Twins Club is a nationally based organization whose focus is to provide support and encouragement to all mothers, expectant mothers, and grandmothers of multiple birth children. The monthly cope meetings and general meetings give mothers an opportunity to share ideas, stories, equipment and clothing as well as some fun. All new and expectant mothers are invited to attend these meetings.

Please call Silvana Smith 508-664-6831 or Lori Branscomb 508-532-2647 for more information.

5.60% 33-Month Term
Annual Percentage Yield as of 2/20/96

5.50% 19-Month Term
Annual Percentage Yield as of 2/20/96

These rates can only go up. They can't go down.

Like any traditional CD, our Bump Rate CD comes with a guaranteed APY. It's locked in for the full term.

But unlike traditional CDs, our Bump Rate CD also comes with a free 'Bump'. If rates climb, you can bump your rate up to the higher one.

With as little as $1,000, you can open a Bump Rate CD that lets you bump up your rate one time anytime. No cost. No hassle.

Not to mention that all deposits are fully insured. The first $100,000 is insured by FDIC. Everything over that is insured in full by Depositors Insurance Fund - DIF.

Of course, early withdrawal penalties apply. But why would you withdraw early when you can bump your rate to a higher one? Call or visit today for full details.

Plus, they're 100% fully insured.

A CENTURY OF TRADITION, A FUTURE OF OPPORTUNITY

Executive Assistant to the General Manager

The Reading Municipal Light Department is a 100 year old municipal electric utility serving 23,000 customers in Reading, North Reading, Wilmington and Lynnfield Center.

We have an immediate management opportunity to provide administrative, secretarial and clerical support to the General Manager.

One of the position's primary responsibilities is preparing documents and agenda for the Board of Commissioners meetings normally held at 7:30pm on Monday evenings on a bi-weekly basis. Attendance at these meetings is required to function as "Recording Secretary". Ability to take and transcribe accurate minutes is essential using any form of shorthand or typing directly onto the computer keyboard.

Strong coordination skills are necessary to handle all employee travel arrangements, schedule meetings for the General Manager and follow up on a variety of projects and issues. Ability to interact on a routine basis with the elected five member Board of Commissioners is essential.

The qualified candidate will be a good communicator, self-motivated, detail oriented, able to work under the deadline pressure in a multi-task environment.

At least 5 years executive-level experience is required along with strong word processing skills (Microsoft Word preferred). Educationally, an Associate's degree in a related area is preferred. Salary is commensurate with experience, skills and education.

The RMLD offers a comprehensive benefit package including pension plan, liberal vacation, tuition reimbursement and a pleasant, smoke-free work environment. Our facility is located within walking distance of the Reading MBTA train station. For immediate consideration please fax your resume to the attention of Linda Bernat, Human Resources Manager, at (617) 942-2409 or mail resume to: Reading Municipal Light Dept., 230 Ash Street, Reading, MA 01867. As a respected leader in the healthcare field, Winchester Hospital is recognized for adhering to the highest standards in our every endeavor. It is for these reasons we stand as an important link in the prestigious Boston healthcare network.

Respite Care Providers
Per-Diem
Days, Eves., Sleep-over nights & Weekends

As a part of our new Senior Health Partnership Respite Care program, we are currently looking for qualified individuals to provide supervision, companionship, motivational and supportive assistance to seniors and/or family caregivers who are in need of time away from the ill, disabled or dependent person in the home. This position does not require hands-on personal care. Scheduled hours are based upon client needs and provider availability.

To support the needs of our clients, you must have strong written and verbal communication skills with at least one (1) year experience providing care for an ill, disabled or dependent individual. These positions require sensitivity to the needs of seniors and family caregivers. You must provide your own transportation. Individuals selected for these positions will be required to attend 30 hours of classroom orientation and complete 200 hours of field placement training. Individuals hired will be paid for time spent in orientation.

If you are interested in Respite Care Provider opportunities, or are interested in utilizing this service, please contact Donna Murray, Director of Respite Care at (617) 756-4756 or Joanie LaPlante, Human Resources Representative at (617) 756-2164. Or submit a completed application to Donna Murray at the Senior Health Partnership located at Baldwin Park I, 12 Alfred Street, Suite 307, Woburn, MA 01801. We are an Equal Opportunity Employer. RE/MAX Top Achievers, Inc. congratulate Phyllis A. Nelson for her outstanding sales performance for the month of January. Phyllis has been a consistent leader in her real estate sales for the past 23 years based on her slogan that, "Quality service remains her #1 priority."

Phyllis A. Nelson

She is a member of the Women's Council of Realtors, The Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors, Massachusetts Association of Realtors, National Association of Realtors, Bay State Multiple Listing Service and a member of the Reading Chamber of Commerce.

She has been a Reading resident for 32 years. She looks forward to being of service to you in all your real estate needs and can be reached at RE/MAX Top Achievers, 100 Main Street, Reading or by calling (617) 944-6060 X238 or by calling her direct line (617) 944-8635.

Mary Ann Quinn

Mary Ann Quinn, a sales associate at RE/MAX Top Achievers in Reading, recently received the 100% Club Award for outstanding achievement.

This high honor was presented to approximately 300 of the nearly 1,700 sales associates in RE/MAX at their 10th Annual Awards Extravaganza in front of nearly 1,200 of her peers at the Copley Marriott, Boston. The award is based upon commissions earned during one year.

"We are extremely proud of Mary Ann's accomplishment," said William E. Soteroff, regional director of RE/MAX of New England. "Her professionalism and dedication to her career and clients have made her one of the most successful sales associates in the real estate industry. At RE/MAX, being a member of the 100% Club means that you are one of the best."

Quinn has been a top producer in the RE/MAX of New England region since she joined the Reading office.

RE/MAX of New England is an affiliate of the Colorado-based RE/MAX International. RE/MAX Associates average ten years of experience in the real estate industry. There are over 2,400 offices and 39,000 sales associates in the RE/MAX network internationally. Each office is independently owned and operated.

Workshop: install a doorbell

It's easier to work in a workshop — whether it's plain or fancy — if it is organized efficiently and outfitted for comfort and ease of use. Here are some simple ideas to improve your workshop: Set Up

— Take a cue from kitchen designers. Save steps by arranging your shop in an efficient triangle that puts the workbench, tool storage and assembly areas within easy reach. Creature Comfort

— If your workshop is damp, install a dehumidifier. It makes the air less muggy, and keeps tools from rusting, lumber from swelling, and speeds the drying of glue, paint and other finishes.

— To drive off the chill in your workshop, install an infrared heat lamp over your workbench. Use a lamp that screws into a regular light bulb socket (but make sure the socket is ceramic). Be sure the wiring can handle a typical heat lamp's 250 watts, plus whatever other equipment you use on that circuit.

— Is your workshop in an unfinished, unheated garage? Insulate it to extend use for the greater part of the year and to increase comfort in both hot and cold weather. Give priority to the roof where most of the heat is lost or gained. Staple fiberglass batts vapor down, between the joists or rafters. Or install a wallboard ceiling and lay insulation between the joists.

— Here's relief for tired feet and legs. Cover the floor in front of your workbench with a scrap of low-pile carpet. It cleans easily with a shop vacuum. Besides providing cushioning, it prevents the transfer of body heat from legs and feet to concrete — a major cause of leg discomfort. You can also reduce strain on leg and back muscles by standing on a rubber anti-fatigue mat, available from home centers and floor-covering stores. "See" Noises

— If you're home alone while working in your workshop, it may be difficult to hear the house doorbell. Buy a 12-volt trailer clearance light at an auto-parts store and connect it to the doorbell wiring where the wires run closest to your shop. Install it at eye level so it will catch your attention whenever the doorbell is rung. For your shop phone, telephone stores carry a simple device that turns a light on or off when the phone rings.

— Family members can call you to come to dinner by "ringing" a trailer clearance light. Hook it to a separate doorbell transformer and to a doorbell button inside the house. It's safer than getting an unexpected tap on the shoulder while running a machine. Noises Off

— Keep noise and dirt out of the rest of the house by sealing the gaps around the shop door. Tack spring metal or vinyl tubular gasket weatherstripping along the edges of the frame and mount a sweep along the door bottom. If you have a lightweight hollow-core door, glue or staple acoustical tiles on its shop side or replace it with a solid lumber door.

— Soundproof walls between the shop and living areas to contain workshop noises. Install batts of fiberglass insulation between the studs of an unfinished wall and cover them with wallboard. Cover a finished wall or ceiling with acoustical tiles. Or, apply sound-deadening board such as Homosote or beaverboard, and a second layer of wallboard.

— To silence a rattling, free-standing piece of shop equipment, take it apart at its base, stand or cabinet. Then reassemble it applying a bead of silicone sealant wherever metal parts join. This will bond the parts and keep them from vibrating against one another.

— Reduce noisy vibrations of a bench-top power tool. Put a rubber pad or carpet scrap under each tool leg and clamp the tool to the bench.

Bad team player skills hurt business

What is most likely to hurt your chances of getting ahead in an office? In a recent survey, 57 percent of executives said it was "poor team player skills," outranking such negatives as excessive complaining and complacency.

The survey was developed by Accountemps, the world's first and largest staffing services firm specializing in accounting, finance and bookkeeping. It was conducted by an independent research firm which polled 150 executives from the nation's 1,000 largest companies.

Executives were asked, "Assuming an employee's work is adequate, which of the following most hurts the employee's chances for success at a company?" Their responses:

Poor team player skills 57%
Complacency 21%
Excessive complaining 14%
Defensiveness 6%
Other/Don't know 2%

It's simple . . . call our office at 944-6060 and answer a few questions about the type, style, lot size, taxes and amenities of your home. With this information we will do a Market Analysis and call you back promptly.

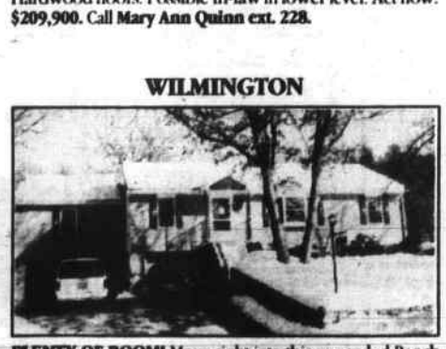

Of course, a more accurate analysis of your property's value will require us to do an interior inspection of your home to check for the quality of finishes, room layout and several other factors.

This inspection has several other advantages too! Primarily we can advise you about what repairs to do or not to do! Often owners think they must do a lot more work than they really need to . . . but it's important to do the right things that will attract the buyer's attention!

A FIX-UP GUARANTEE

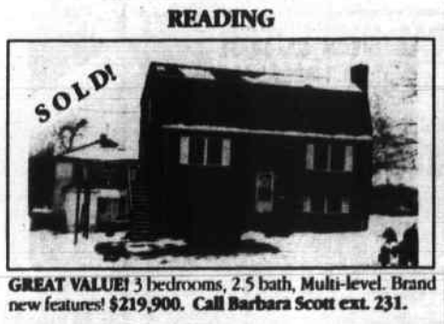

If we can't recommend after our inspection at least three fix-up ideas to you that you haven't thought of, we'll take $100 off the commission when the property sells!

"President's Club" award presented to Jan Fratas

Jan Fratus

Jan Fratus received the "President's Club" award for excellence in sales at the recent "Dare to Dream" RE/MAX of New England awards banquet, held in Boston at the Copley Marriott Hotel.

The RE/MAX President's Club consists of 317 RE/MAX of New England associates out of 1400 agents in New England. Jan is associated with RE.MAX Top Achievers, in Reading and has been with RE/MAX for three years.

"We are very pleased with the contribution that Jan Fratus has made to assist RE/MAX of New England become the premier real estate company of the region," said William Soteroff, executive vice-president and regional direct.

RE/MAX of New England includes 150 real estate offices and over 1,400 real estate agents. On average, sales associates have over 10 years experience and sell more than 24 houses each year - twice the industry standard. In addition to educational conferences, RE/MAX sales associates receive training via the company's proprietary RE/MAX Satellite Network beamed directly to participating offices.

Jan has been a consistent multi-million dollar award winner since the beginning of her real estate career in 1984.

Jan is a graduate of the Realtor Institute of Massachusetts and is a current candidate for the Certified Residential Specialist (CRS) designation. She is a member of the National Association of Realtors, the Massachusetts Association of Realtors, the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors and the Bay State Multiple listing Service. Jan is also an active member of the Woburn Middlesex Lions Association. Throughout her career she has been involved in numerous real estate and civic endeavors.

Steve Chuha, broker/owner of RE/MAX Top Achievers attributes Jan's success to her high standards of professionalism, integrity and knowledge of the real estate market and current trends.

Jan is ready to assist you with all of your real estate needs and can be reached at RE/MAX Top Achievers, Inc., 100 Main Street Reading or by calling (617) 944-6060.

Catherine Constantino now with DeWolfe

Catherine Constantino

Catherine Constantino has joined DeWolfe New England's Reading office as a sales associate, according to an announcement released today by Arlene McLaughlin, manager of the Reading facility.

Prior to joining DeWolfe New England, Constantino was employed as a nurse at the Cambridge Hospital in Cambridge. Constantino has completed real estate courses and hold a Massachusetts real estate sales license.

"We are pleased that Cathy has chosen to join the DeWolfe New England team," said McLaughlin. "The skills she developed in nursing are essential ingredients of real estate sales. Cathy is well-equipped to meet the needs of our customers and clients."

DeWolfe New England, a fully integrated homeownership company, provides home-selling and home-buying representation, mortgage banking and relocation assistance.

Local artists participate

Art exhibit aids Dana Farber

Colonial Manor Realty is pleased to be a supporter of "Friends," the theme for a sensational art exhibit and sale to benefit the Dana Farber Cancer Institute's Eva Brownman Fund and the fight against women's breast cancer.

Local artists will be displaying their works, from oils to sculpture. Dramatically set in the grand ballroom at 351 Main Street in Wakefield, this event is sure to be a special one for you and your friends.

Admission is $3 per person or $5 per couple or family. Stop by Saturday, March 2 from 11 am to 10 pm and Sunday, March 3 from 11 am to 8 pm. There will be raffles, refreshments and fun. Everyone's attendance will make a difference, so come share in this special and important event.

For further information, contact Marion Neiman at 508-238-7908 or Thomas Marroni at 617-224-9998, ext. 22.

Tips to attract birds to a feeder

Here's some tips on attracting birds to a feeder.

When installing a new bird feeder, place it near the old one until the birds become familiar with the new feeder.

Place the feeder close enough to the house where birds can be watched, but far enough away from the ledges and tree limbs within squirrels jumping ranges.

Keep the feeder stocked with seed to keep birds coming back.

Add clean sand or fine gravel to seed to aid birds' digestion.

Maker sure the feeder can protect both birds and seed from windy and wet weather conditions.

Don't waste money on cheap seed mixtures, birds won't eat them.

Use black oil sunflower seed to attract the widest variety of birds. It's the seed of choice for most birds.

Offer a fresh water supply even in cold weather for drinking and bathing. Heat the water, if necessary, to prevent freezing.

Supply squirrels with their own food source to prevent them from attacking bird feeders.

Surround the feeder with plants that attract insects, such as honeysuckle, mountain ash or Japanese holly, to feed bug-eating birds.

Clean feeders to prevent disease causing mold and fecal contamination.

Store bird seed away from rodents in cool, dry areas to prevent mold, mildew and rot.
